Rioters in Bolivia Attack U.S. Embassy

Anti-American Outburst Comes
After Story in U. S. Magazine,
President Seeks to Calm Mob

La Paz, Bolivia — (U) — Seeking to calm enraged mobs who stoned the U.S. embassy, Bolivian President Hernan Siles said last night American officials have denied a U.S. magazine story that touched off the anti-American outburst.

The article quoted an unidentified U.S. embassy official as suggesting Bolivia, because of its economic problems, should be abolished as a country and "its neighbors divide the country and its problems."

Siles took to the streets and the radio after the rioting resulted in the fatal shooting of a 15-year-old student. At one point mobs burned the U.S. flag but there were no reports of injuries to any Americans in the city.

Radio Appeal

In a radio appeal for an end to the disturbances, Siles said the U.S. charge d'affaires had told him the magazine article did not correspond to statements made by any American diplomatic official.

There had been, Siles told the nation, a "provocation by an irresponsible journalist that reflected the thought of international capitalism."

The quote in question appeared in the current hemisphere edition of the magazine, which circulates in Latin America, but not in the U.S. edition. A spokesman at the magazine's office in New York indicated a statement might be issued later.

Democrats Try Quick Passage Of Legislation

Leaders Want to Pile Up Substantial
Record in Congress

Washington — (U) — Democratic leaders are driving to lay controversial housing and airport bills on President Eisenhower's desk before Congress takes a 10-day Easter vacation March 26.

There also is a possibility that both houses will agree on a bill to grant statehood to Hawaii and that the senate may get around to acting on a labor reform measure in the next three weeks.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) obviously want to pile up a substantial record of legislative action as quickly as possible in an effort to show that the Democratic Congress is keeping on its toes.

Early Windup

Johnson and Rayburn are reported agreed that unless there are unexpected international developments that would require congressional action, this year's session ought to wind up its work early in July.

Any such timetable, however, may depend on Eisenhower's reaction to measures such as the housing and airport bills, which affect his efforts to balance the budget.

The senate has passed both housing and airport bills far exceeding Eisenhower's proposals. Similar measures, with smaller money totals, have been approved by house committees but not yet scheduled for floor action.

Possibility of Veto

But the house committee bills still go beyond what Eisenhower asked, and unless the house makes further cuts when it acts upon them, the possibility of presidential vetoes will remain.

Vetoes of these measures would obviously anger some of the Democrats who have been going along with the party leadership in efforts to stay within Eisenhower's total spending estimates so that the Democrats cannot be blamed for a budget deficit. They might seek to override these vetoes and, if they succeeded, go on to higher spending.

Idaho Removes Ban on Interracial Marriage

Boise, Idaho — (U) — Idaho removed its ban on interracial marriages yesterday.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie signed a bill passed by both houses of the legislature which repeals the so-called "anti-miscegenation" law.

The law, on the Idaho books for decades, prohibited marriages between whites and Negroes, Orientals, and other persons of color. The effect of the repeal is to remove all racial restrictions on marriages.

Free News Flow
Way to Peace,
Speakers Assert

Columbia, Mo. — (U) — The free flow of news between nations marks the way to peace, speakers at the world press conference hammered home today.

They said both censorship and propaganda have been used to block understanding between people and nations.

Aryeh Dissentshik, editor of Mavrik at Tel Aviv in the new nation of Israel, put it like this in a speech prepared for delivery at the congress:

"I am sure that a free flow of news across war torn borders in the Middle East would contribute much to the promotion of peace. The flow of propaganda-infected news is a decisive factor in the perpetuation of enmity and hatred."

He said a better and healthier atmosphere would be created if well - backgrounded news enabled the peoples to understand each other more fully.

Radio, TV Performer Dies of Lung Cancer

Santa Monica, Calif. — (U) — Jack McElroy, 45, a veteran radio and television performer, died last night of lung cancer after a six-month illness.

McElroy spent 28 years in broadcasting, starting as a singer in his home town of Pittsburg, Kan. He became known to millions as master of ceremonies on the radio show, "Breakfast in Hollywood," and as the announcer and singer on the TV show, "Bride and Groom."

M. F. Schimenz New Chairman Of State PSC

Milwaukee Official
George Steinmetz

Madison — (U) — Gov. Gaylord Nelson today named Ald. Matt F. Schimenz, Milwaukee, chairman of the Wisconsin public service commission.

Schimenz succeeds George P. Steinmetz, whose term expired Monday.

Nelson said he had asked Steinmetz to stay on with the commission "so that the state can continue to benefit from his many years of experience in utility regulation."

Matt Schimenz

his many years of experience in utility regulation." Steinmetz is a former chief engineer of the commission.

Committee Chairman

Schimenz, 52, has been chairman of the Milwaukee common council's public utilities committee for the last three years. His state appointment is for six years at an annual salary of $14,500. The appointment is subject to confirmation by the state senate.

Before coming to the council in 1947, Schimenz was a member of the Milwaukee city attorney's staff for 11 years. He specialized in public utility cases.

The governor said he had selected the new chairman for "his broad background in the field."

"I am convinced," Nelson said, "that Matt Schimenz is uniquely qualified to represent the interests of the public on the PSC, at the same time protecting the rights assured the utilities under our regulatory laws."

Other Assignments

In addition to his public service and water policy assignments, Schimenz is chairman of the joint citizens-common council committee on reorganization of local government, and a member of the council's special committee on taxation and its building and grounds committee.

A native of Austria, Schimenz was graduated from Milwaukee's South Division High school in 1925. He received his law degree from Marquette university in 1930.

Schimenz and his wife are the parents of two grown children and have three grandchildren.

Police Lose Trail of Flying Bank Robber

Suspect One of Most Wanted Criminals
In Theft of $25,955 in Hamilton, Ohio

Canton, Ohio — (U) — Police and the FBI traced a flying bank robber to this northern Ohio city last night. But then the trail ended.

Authorities say there is little doubt that the man they are chasing is Frank Lawrence Mrs. Lewis Sprenz, 29, of Akron. He's one of the FBI's 10 most wanted criminals.

At Hamilton in southern Ohio yesterday a courteous gunman, who thanked his victims, held up a branch of the First National Bank and Trust company and fled with $25,955.

Later an airplane was stolen from the Hamilton airport and flown to Coshocton, 160 miles northeast. That's when the FBI started thinking the bank robber was Sprenz, who has stolen airplanes on two other occasions.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, a teller in the Hamilton bank, identified Sprenz' picture.

In Coshocton, a car dealer said a man answering Sprenz' description purchased a used car with cash and drove away. Four hours later and 55 miles to the north the car was found abandoned here.

And that's where the trail ends. Police frankly admit they have no solid leads on Sprenz' whereabouts — he's vanished, or so it seems.

If everything the FBI believes about Sprenz is true, his disappearance follows a pattern. He has been leading them on an incredible chase since breaking out of the Summit county jail in Akron almost a year ago.

Stolen Airplanes

Twice he has stolen airplanes. A seaplane taken from a Toronto, Ont. airport was found floating abandoned in Baltimore harbor on Sept. 30. Feb. 14 a plane was stolen from Scranton, Pa. and landed near Colchester, Vt.

While police scoured the east for Sprenz a man answering his description robbed a New Haven, Conn., Trust company branch of $12,000.

Although Sprenz has not been known to shoot during his exploits the FBI says he's dangerous. He will fire without provocation, they say.

Typhoon Strikes Manuan Islands

Honolulu — (U) — An estimated 400 homes were destroyed and coconut, breadfruit and banana crops knocked out for at least a year last week when the worst typhoon in 44 years hit the Manuan islands in the Samoa group.

Delayed dispatches from Pago Pago, the capital of America Samoa, to the Honolulu Star-Bulletin say 50 mph winds flattened three villages and injured many people but caused no deaths.

Gov. Peter T. Coleman has declared the Manuan group a disaster area and emergency committees are working to provide food and shelter to hundreds of homeless villagers.

Bob Hope in New York

New York — (U) — Comedian Bob Hope is in New York to see a specialist about a blood clot that could cost him the sight of his left eye.

He arrived by plane from Hollywood yesterday.

Hope said he has only 50 per cent of normal vision in the eye and that closing and opening it suddenly upsets his sense of balance sometimes.

The trouble developed during a Christmas holiday trip to Europe to entertain U.S. servicemen. Hope, 54, said high blood pressure caused the clot.

The University of California seismograph at Berkeley recorded for 12 minutes. Seismologist Don Tocher said the quake centered 65 miles to the south in the coast range south of Mt. Hilton.

Tocher said the quake had a 5.5 magnitude on the Richter scale, which roughly measures a quake in terms of the energy released. The same scale put San Francisco's 1906 quake at 8.25. It rated at 5.25 the March 22, 1957, quake which centered in the suburb of Daly City and which did considerable damage to houses. The Southern California quake of 1952 registered at 7.5.

'Quake Hits In Northern California

San Francisco — (U) — A powerful but comparatively harmless earthquake shook up northern California yesterday.

It rattled dishes and windows from Sabastopol, 50 miles to the north, to Hollister, 100 miles to the south.

Wants U. S.
World Bank

Washington — (U) — Increased U.S. financial backing for the world bank and international monetary fund was endorsed today by Chairman Brent Spense (D-Ky) of the house banking committee.

Spence supported the action of the committee called Sec. of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson as the first witness at hearings on the proposal.

President Eisenhower asked congress Feb. 12 for quick action to approve the increases in U.S. funds. Other members of the bank and fund also have been asked for proportional increases. Both institutions are designed to promote international economic development.

"It is essential to do what the president 'wants done,'" Spence said. "It's the best way I know of to furnish assistance to the free nations."

"It means a lot to our future relations with other nations. It will certainly do a lot more good than shooting, for instance, for international good will, international trade and stabilizing of foreign currencies."

Victory Seen For Democrat

Kansas City — (U) — Voters in Missouri's Fourth district today will choose a successor to Democratic Rep. George H. Christopher, who died in office last month.

The district includes part of Kansas City, former President Harry Truman's home town of Independence and seven rural counties.

A special Democratic convention nominated William J. Randall, 48, a member of the Jackson county (Kansas City) board of commissioners for 14 years.

His Republican opponent is William R. McKee, Jr., 43, a lumber dealer from suburban Lee's Summit who has never held an elective office.

The district normally votes Democratic. The state now has nine Democratic representatives and one Republican congressman.

In a Kansas City primary election, only incumbent H. Roe Bartle's name appeared on the ballot in the race for mayor, although he had three write-in opponents: former Jackson county judge and juvenile court judge Ray Cowan; Publisher Garrett Smalley of the Kansas City News-Press; and Frank Holmes, an airline employee.

Reds Remove Some of
Of German Agreement

But Officials Cautious as Russia
Accepts Foreign Ministers Talks

Washington — (U) — American officials said today Russia has removed some but by no means all of the road blocks to a negotiated settlement of the German crisis.

These officials cautiously welcomed a new Soviet note accepting the west's proposal to hold a foreign ministers conference on the critical issues. But their first intensive examination of the 10-page note, received here yesterday, turned up several fishhooks.

They saw one concession: Kremlin agreement to a foreign ministers meeting at Geneva or Vienna next month.

Waste of Time

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev had said in a Moscow speech last Tuesday that a foreign ministers meeting would be a waste of time, so why not get on immediately with a summit conference. Now, the Russians were agreeing to a foreign ministers meeting, limited to three months. A summit conference is likely to be held later.

American officials also saw a repetition of a previous Soviet line — that German reunification was a matter for the East and West Germans, and nobody else, to settle.

Some other demands and preconditions in the note would have to be explored in requests to Moscow for clarification.

Consultations Start

U. S. consultations with Britain, France and West Germany are scheduled to start at Bonn next Tuesday. Diplomats of the four countries will begin then to draft a reply to the Soviet gambit. American officials, meanwhile, will be talking the whole thing over with all the allies.

One major cause of relief was Moscow's apparent emphasis of May 27 as a critical deadline. This was the date set by Khrushchev for turning East Berlin over to East Germany if no east-west talks were under way by then.

Charlie's Thoughts Go From Cows To Place Names to Family Papers

BY CHARLES ROUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Pedagogy: The most prolific papa I know of is a gentleman now named Bart Prilly Wayne. In a one year period old Prilly sired a respectable total of 4,500 calves, all by artificial insemination. . . I've invented a new term for the worry over the cold war with Russia: Asia phasia.

Deepest place in the ocean is believed to be off the east coast of the Philippine islands. It's reckoned to be 34,300 feet deep. That's almost six and a half miles. . . If you were the world's champion walker, it would take you 44 minutes and 47 seconds to hike the distance. On the level!

Did you know the Bartlett pear takes its name from a signer of the Declaration of Independence? True. That juicy fruit was developed by a son of Josiah B. Bartlett, the signer. . . Now some newspaperman is cogitating on the fun headline writers would have if Zsa Zsa Gabor were to be attached by a tsetse fly in Walla Walla, Wash. . .

Col. Jack Rudolph, a crackerjack historian who writes many Wisconsin historical features, walked into his office one day. A co-worker called out a greeting: "Hi, Jack," he said, "What's old?"

One of my all-time favorite stories is that last word question of William Palmer, who was to be hanged. As he stepped on the trap of the gallows he asked the droollet of all questions: "Is it safe?" . . .

Wants to Visit

Places I'd like to visit: Milwaukee, N. C. (population 291), Milwaukee, Ore. (population 1,871); Vex, Switzerland; Horse Heaven, Ore.; Barn, Ga.; Slam, N. C.; and Nether Wallop, England. . .

While on the subject of odd place-names, let us not forget the California bluff whose hobby is linking real or imagined place-names to make passable quotations, thus: Oola, La. Shapeless, Mass. Deathly, Ill. Praise, Ala. Hittor, Miss. Poison, Penn. Hogg, Wash. Ninor, Tenn. Gee, Wis. Proto, Col. Goodness, Me.

I had occasion to wonder, last week, at what folks do with family documents. Most of us, I presume, lose them or throw them away before they have acquired age and family value.

I spent several hours with Merle M. Culbertson who runs the Brookside Century farm near Medina. In Culbertson's possession are a number of interesting and valuable family documents—even to his great-grandfather's naturalization papers dated Oct. 9, 1837.

Still in Family

The old farm which was hewed out of the wilderness by three generations of Culbertsons was photographed at various periods, and these photos are still a family possession.

Culbertson also has a letter dated 1869 from a Wisconsin man who wrote the earlier Culbertsons about our state. There is also in Merle's collection of family data a diary of one of his forebears which tells of the trip from their original home in Indiana to the wilds of Wisconsin.

Parts of the Culbertson farm were purchased from veterans of the Civil war who had earned the acreage of the Culbertson relics even though we know our family was in Wisconsin before it became a state.

Culbertson's father, Henry, spent the years from 1880 to 1942 in writing a family history. It includes discussion of early Wisconsin folks and neighbors who, in their own way, helped to make Wisconsin history. I wonder how many Fox River Valley residents have so complete a record as that of Merle Culbertson.

Chairman of the semi-finals in Appleton is Prof. Bruce Cronmiller of the Lawrence faculty. Judges are Miss Denise Lacoste of Roosevelt Junior High school, Marcel Muller and Richard Stowe, members of the college faculty.

Safe Driving Tip

Passing on A Hill Can Be Fatal

Careless passing is one of the greatest causes of highway accidents. It is impossible to see beyond a hillcrest or a curve, so you can never safely cross into the other lane at these points.

Naturally, says the Chicago Motor club, it is irritating to follow slow-moving traffic near the crest of a hill. But the good driver will accept the delay rather than risk an accident. In the illustration, the impatient driver is about to pay for his carelessness.

Revised Trade School Costs Recommended

Council Asked to Approve Extras for Boilers, Ventilators

The city council's school advisory committee Monday approved $34,850 in added construction costs in plans for the proposed addition to the vocational school's trades building.

Total estimated cost of the addition would be $105,650, if the council Wednesday night approves the committee action.

E. C. Hilfert, vocational and adult education board president, told the committee in a letter that an estimated extra $28,150 is needed for two boilers and $8,500 for new unit ventilators.

A 40-year-old boiler will be replaced and the new ventilators will be off the floor, added.

ing to available floor space, Hilfert explained.

The council committee decided to hold off a recommendation on a new 10,000-gallon fuel oil tank, estimated to cost $2,500.

Ready For Bids

Hilfert said the present tank has been in use as long as the boiler, but indicated replacement may not be necessary.

Council approval would give the trade school board permission to take bids, Ald. Tews, school advisory chairman, said.

When bids are received they will be forwarded to the council for inspection before aldermen authorize the mayor and clerk to sign contracts.

After contracts are settled, the council will have to sell bonds to defray costs, Tews reported.

The committee also is recommending the council buy 30 copies of "Layman's Guide for School Construction," a Public Expenditure Survey of Wisconsin publication, for distribution to city officials.

Jury Awards Man $5,500 for His Injuries, Damage

A municipal court jury of four women and eight men has awarded a paper mill worker $5,500 for injuries and damage he suffered in a 2-car crash May 3, 1937, on Highway 47.

Frank Buss, 1318 W. Prospect avenue, sued Orin Romanesko, route 2, Black Creek, and his insurance carrier, Farmers Mutual Insurance company, for $25,000.

During the 1-day trial before Judge Oscar J. Schmieg, the car damages were agreed upon at $100, wage loss at $134.64 and medical expenses at $113.50.

The accident occurred about 4 1/2 miles north of Black Creek when, Buss charged, Romanesko drove on the wrong side of the road.

A Victory for Sense and Fairness

Agreement by the Outagamie and Winnebago County Boards on a site for the University of Wisconsin Extension Center building constitutes a great victory for the forces of common sense and fairness in both counties. We are not referring to the site itself, but rather to the manner in which it was selected. Spirited competition developed among three communities — Menasha, Appleton and Kaukauna — for the Center yet while they fought hard, the battle took place in such a form that at no time was the project itself endangered.

Another thing that kept this from being one of those silly old-fashioned "boundary line" fights was the fact the so-called "Appleton" site — the one finally selected — actually is located in the town of Menasha in Winnebago county. Thus although Menasha and Kaukauna naturally were disappointed at the outcome they did not really lose to Appleton, but rather to a site appropriately called Midway since it is located midway between Appleton and the Twin Cities and also is conveniently accessible to most of the other communities which will send students.

Nothing could be a better omen for the future of the Fox Cities community than the fact these two counties have joined to sponsor such a project and have overcome the obstacles placed in its way both by the intercommunity rivalries and by the backward-looking "boundaryitis" supervisors on the Outagamie board. In this era of modern transportation and communications, more and more important public projects must be undertaken at the county or multi-county level if the people to be served by them are going to share equally in their cost. The fact that the supervisors of Outagamie and Winnebago counties have been forward-looking enough to put aside local jealousies and political expediency to launch this unprecedented 2-county project marks a great step forward in the progress not only of the Fox Cities but of the entire Fox River Valley.

Much credit is due those who worked so hard to make an Extension Center building a reality — Gordon Bubolz and Mayor Mitchell of Appleton, John Wulterding and Mayor Du Charne of Menasha, Supv. De La Hunt and Mayor Bayorgeon of Kaukauna, the members of the special committees of the two county boards, and the many others who have played a part in this victory for good sense and progress for our area.

Bear Creek Again in Reform News

A 60-year cycle has come around and again the legislator from Bear Creek has cast down his gauntlet in a crusade of reform. Again the object of reform is extremely personal in nature.

The present legislator is State Sen. Gerald Lorge. His counterpart in the 1899 legislature was Assemblyman Henry L. Daggett.

Early in this session of the legislature Sen. Lorge introduced a bill aimed at outlawing tattooing artists and shops, a strange object of contempt for a former marine. His bill would make tattooing shops illegal in the state under penalty of a $1,000 fine.

The art of tattooing is an ancient and, in some parts of the world, an honorable pursuit. Its origin is lost in antiquity, but best evidence indicates tattooing always has been used to make men more pleasing in the eyes of the ladies. Except in some primitive cultures, it is currently an eccentricity of sailors, soldiers — and marines — and certain cigaret salesmen.

From time to time, tattooing has been under public attack. There has been some concern over the hygienic qualities of the operation, but more often the principal attack has been on the product of the art form, and the armed forces, especially the navy — of which the marines have limited kinship — during World War II ordered that some of the art be altered to hide its more racy qualities.

Because of the somewhat painful ordeal to which tattooing subjects its devotees, it always has been considered a sign of virility and a mark of attaining manhood, one of its chief purposes in ancient, primitive societies.

In all fairness it must be said Sen. Lorge apparently is not tattooed and, consequently, is able to take a dispassionate view of the subject.

The Hon. Assemblyman Daggett's object of reform, somewhat like the tattoo, also was generally hidden from view, although its results were much more apparent. He, too, could take a dispassionate view since he obviously did not participate personally in the practice.

The 1899 Bear Creek reform was aimed at corsets, or, rather, the undoing of them. Resolution 11A of that year was a bold cry in the "anti-lacing" crusade that was sweeping the nation. It was not the first move toward reform nor was it a successful culmination of a crusade since it did nothing more in the assembly than raise howls of derision that caused columns of editorial type to be set in tongue-in-cheek alarm over the assemblyman's preoccupation with the size of milady's waist. It also branded the well-meaning Bear Creek farmer with a nickname that gained currency in the newspapers of the state — Corset Daggett.

We will not fall to the temptation of analyzing the merit of the recently married Sen. Lorge's reform, nor are we prone to draw any hard parallel between the two Bear Creek legislators.

One final historic footnote might serve the worthy senator as a word about reformers: Corset Daggett failed to return to Madison the session after he became unstrung in his anti-lacing resolution.

Canada Drops $400 Million in a Jet Plan

The Canadian government has decided to scrap its plan for developing the manned interceptor known as the CF-105 Avro Arrow. The program on this jet plane, which was to have a speed of nearly 1,500 miles per hour, was launched by the Canadian government in 1952 according to Prime Minister Diefenbaker. It now is known that the plane could not be operational until 1962. At that time, he says, the weapons in use will be intercontinental ballistic missiles rather than manned bombers which the CF-105 was designed to intercept.

Consequently there is no use going on with the development of this interceptor for which there will be nothing to intercept when it is ready to fly. The Canadian action is only one of many indications that no government is able to keep all of its program abreast with the progress required by the rapid advance made by people all over the world including our potential enemies. But of course there could be no greater folly than to persist in the production of an item that is known to be out of date. That sometimes happens when bureaucrats are intent upon covering their mistakes. The action by the Canadian government is frank and refreshing.

With the abandonment of this jet program, the Canadian government also announced it was taking a short cut to modernizing its defenses. It is negotiating with the government of the United States for a nuclear weapon for its Bomarc and Lacrosse missiles. Mr. Diefenbaker also said he hopes to obtain nuclear anti-submarine weapons for the Canadian navy. According to the Canadian belief that the control of nuclear weapons should remain in the hands of the major western powers, Canada will not attempt to make nuclear warheads. Any of them supplied to the Canadian forces will remain in the control of the United States, he said.

The Canadian statement is notable in two respects. First, it is practical. Second, it indicates, for all the world to see, unbounded confidence in the honesty and good faith of the United States government. No greater compliment could have been paid to our government by any nation. We are confident that the Canadians will never have reason to regret this action.

The Space-Age Soldier

The popular picture concept of the American foot soldier of the early and mid-40s had a dash of romance about it and thus there appears to be a certain feeling of sadness attached to the announcement from a high military source that the GI of 1970 will look like a man from space which, indeed, he will be.

In 1943 and '44 for instance, the hero of the hour was a tall young man in camouflaged fatigues, netted helmet and combat boots with an M1 rifle cradled carelessly in the crook of his arm. The band of grenades at his belt gave him a lethal look.

His counterpart in 1970 will be cut from the same cloth but his appearance and function will be considerably different. For instance:

He'll wear headgear much like a football helmet and his special clothing will protect him from many forms of enemy attack. He'll casually climb obstacles and cross ditches with the aid of a rocket belt strapped on his back. He'll move easily with the help of zero ground pressure creeping boots. He'll carry a light, all-purpose super-gun with 150 rounds of ammunition.

This isn't the product of a science fiction writer. It comes from the army's chief of combat development. Maj. Gen. Harry W. Johnson. It does tend to indicate, however, that the world has seen the last of the carefree World War II doughfoot image.

The space-age soldier will have many an advantage over the 1940-type GI. He'll probably travel in an airjeep, a saucer-like vehicle which can move in any direction or hover motionless in one place.

And he'll eat well, too. Gone forever are the field rations, D, K, C and others. He'll eat a tasty meal of irradiated food which he'll carry in small flat pack. He'll carry a small pencil-shaped detonator which can quickly blast foxholes, thus seemingly putting the hand grenade out of business.

It would appear, then, that the public will have to create a new picture-image of the fighting man. This new creation, too, will have an air of romance and mystery.

But we'd like to think the American public is not so fickle as to forget the foot-sore, mud-stained, sad-eyed dogface of World War II.

He was, altogether, quite a man.

Regrets Letter on Farmers Has Resulted in Much Name Calling

Editor, Post-Crescent:

About two weeks ago I wrote an article telling my impression of farmers as a class. At the present time it appears that I must defend my opinion but also myself. So far there have been three different letters telling their reflections and the ideas they received from my letter. In these letters the people showed what I would call a trait of most people. That when somebody disagrees with them they resort to name calling.

In the first letter the person tried to display a sort of clever writing. Throughout all of the letter was used sarcastic humor whenever possible. I believe you will find that when you have no concrete facts to base your opinion on you will inevitably turn to making fun of one's ideas. It was also stated that if you compare the space devoted to the farmers problems and the space devoted to the problems of labor unions in print you will find that the latter has much more. The person who wrote the letter probably didn't realize that right now the people who farm make up only a little over 11 per cent of our country's population. So it is just logical that more articles are written about the troubles of labor unions.

The second letter which tried to persuade advocates for the cause of farming not only insulted me but also the Post-Crescent which graciously has set aside this space for people to publicly express their opinion. So or he claimed that the farmer was condemned about twice a week in the editorials of this paper. This idea has grown grotesquely out of proportion. The editorials have merely stated the facts about the various areas of farming.

It was also mentioned that if the farmer would organize into a union they would have enough power to get the various things that they want. But if they tried to accomplish this the government would break it apart and call it a monopoly. I would appreciate it very much if you would show me any type of union that was accomplishing any worth while good that has been forced to separate because it was a monopoly. I think that the only way for a farmer to get what he wants is to organize.

Then the writer of the letter went on and said "it makes her sick to keep hearing the city people complaining about the surpluses. What does she expect the taxpayer to do. Its their money with which this stuff is stored."

I would like to offer my deepest gratitude for having the opportunity to express my opinions publicly in this column.

Expresses His Appreciation for Hospital Care

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I noticed an article the other day on treatment in our hospitals; allow me to put in my two cents worth of first-hand experience.

Last Friday, I was unfortunate enough to slip and fall on the ice, twisting my foot under my very solid 185 pounds. Painful is not wholly adequate to describe the way it felt. My wife called our family doctor and he told her he would meet us in the X-ray department of the hospital. We went over there and I received very complete treatment. The X-ray technician was off duty and had to be sent for, but she cheerfully came and took the necessary "shots." At no time did anyone bother me about my antecedents, my religion, my financial standing, or anything else not necessary to normal medical records.

All I can say is that I got prompt and efficient care in an emergency with no quibbling about who was going to pay for it. There is nothing more aggravating to a man in pain than to have to answer a lot of damn fool questions obviously not necessary at the time, when action may be taken to relieve the pain and discomfort and get the fracture set. ## Pioneers Meet at Perrot Farm

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of March 7, 1880.

The Pioneer Association No. 2 met at the residence of L. Perrot, Greenville, on Saturday last.

It was a cold and rough day but about 10 a.m. the teams and people could be seen coming and it was not long before 200 arrived and the barns and stables were filled with horses.

Such a pioneer meeting we are sure was never held in Outagamie county before. Two bands of music were in attendance and also two organs and plenty of young women to sing. A Culbertson and C. J. Sweetser furnished the organ music.

Shortly before 12 o'clock the meeting was called to order by the president, John Dey, of Greenville. After adjournment, two hours were spent at dinner. The tables groaned under the many good things they supported. Besides this, 40 cans of oysters and a barrel of crackers had been provided which added materially to the feast. After all had been served, many baskets of good things were gathered and sent to the sick and poor.

25 YEARS AGO

Tuesday, Feb. 27, 1934

Dist. Atty. F. F. Wheeler, Municipal Judge T. H. Ryan, Sheriff Martin Verhagen and R. J. Meyer, secretary of the Outagamie county park commission, were to meet at the courthouse that afternoon to confer on plans for the operation of the new county prison camp.

Dr. Preston M. Bradley, president of the Izaak Walton league of America, was to address central Wisconsin sports men at Lawrence Memorial chapel.

Rex W. Hovey, vice president of the Oxford Paper Corp., New York, was elected to the board of trustees of the Institute of Paper Chemistry.

Mayor George E. Sande and group of Neenah city officials who spent Monday at Madison in conference with Gov. Schmedeman relative to the CWA situation at Neenah returned with the assurance that all possible aid and consideration would be given the matter.

Tuesday, March 1, 1949

County Judge Gerald Jolin, Sheriff Andrew J. Schiltz, and District Attorney Allen R. Solie were to speak at a meeting of the Outagamie County Humane society. Discussion was to center around increasing the activities and functions of the humane society.

Two new policemen were added to the Outagamie county police force that day, bringing the department's strength to 11 men, according to Capt. William J. Glasheen, head of the depart-

Funds Apportionment Still Haphazard Affair

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison—There has been so much talk during the last decade about improving state government budget procedure that the innocent taxpayer might be inclined to believe that some reforms have been made.

He would be sorely deceived, indeed. Nothing much has been changed. New people are put in charge from time to time. But the allocation of hun-rate, I was pleased with the treatment I received, and am grateful for it!

Thanks From Letter Carriers

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The Letter Carriers of Appleton express their deep gratitude to those people who were of great help to us by keeping their sidewalks and driveway aprons clear of snow and ice these past few weeks. As we all know, this has been a miserable winter, and it was a little difficult in trying to keep a clean sidewalk. Those of you who succeeded to do so, many thanks.

However, there are still too many walks that are in bad shape as far as ice and snow is concerned. That condition should not exist at this time. If you have icy walks and steps, show consideration for the people who must walk on them. Sand is available free from the city, even a handful of table salt will help break down any ice formation on your walks.

Another thing to remember is this: if you haven't received any mail lately, look at your sidewalk. Regulations permit the mail man to return to the post office any mail addressed to a house without a path to the mail box. "No trail, no mail" is a good slogan, and applies within a reasonable time after a snow storm.

If your sidewalk is clean, and if you could read the mind of your letter carrier as he approaches your house, you will hear him say, "God bless the people inside this house, for they are a considerate family."

dreds of millions of dollars in the state budget is pretty nearly as casual and haphazard today as it was a quarter of a century ago when the system was infinitely smaller and the hazards in a wrong guess didn't loom as so costly.

Gov. Nelson has said repeatedly that he feels helpless in his task of reviewing the huge state budget in the small time allowed to him, and with the limited staff resources at his command.

He has sent a budget to the legislature in what is literally an apologetic tone. He has seemed to say:

"I'm not as all sure about these figures, so you look them over and see what you think you can do with them."

But the legislature, through its finance committee, has even less time and fewer resources than did the governor. There is no great chance for recovery of error there.

THE GUESSING

An hour of "hearing" in the joint finance committee is a long one. One agency after another is dismissed after a half hour or less of the most perfunctory description of purpose and function and the most lethargic questioning.

The committee has the services of a battery of young budget analysts attached to the bureau of budget and accounts. These young men audit the budget figures and prepare memoranda for the information of the legislators. But they are not hired to offer their judgment. They merely sort out the figures, and make sure that there is no obvious bluffing in the requests — that money is not provided for persons who won't be hired, or materials and expenses that won't be committed. There is no assurance, moreover, that the legislators will read their reports, or if they read them, understand them.

All this is not to indict particularly the capacity or the zeal of the present legislative budget committee. No doubt it compares with those of most other legislatures, although most of the new members appear painfully uninformed and shy as a consequence.

IT'S THE SYSTEM

The fault is in the system, a system that has not been adapted to the hugely increased growth of the state government.

It is a system in which the right decisions are made purely by chance, by a random inquiry, by the capacity of an administrative witness, by the alertness of an outside pressure group.

The state budget, representing up to $400,000,000 of the taxpayers' resources, is not a policy representing the value and the returns of the myriad state services in relation to each year, but a series of separate decisions relying on as many irrelevances.

The dollars are passed out not according to any deliberate assessment of the value of civil defense as against public health officers, or university teaching as against caring for the mentally ill, or recreational advertising promotion as against boiler and mine inspection.

They are passed out according to what each official asked, how he asked, what the committee happens to think of him, and what he wangled out of the last legislature. The emphasis is upon the increased request, virtually always, not upon the program as such.

Any Wisconsin wage-earner whose wife managed a household budget in such a fashion would promptly ask for the surrender of her check-book.

Rezoning for Doctor Again Recommended

Would Pave Way for Office Construction At Meade, Woodland

Two lots at the northeast corner of Meade street and Woodland avenue again are recommended for rezoning to local business district.

City planning commissioners decided Monday to resubmit the rezoning request to the council Wednesday night.

It would pave the way for construction of a medical building by Dr. Edward Zeiss. Commissioners approved the rezoning and recommended it at the last council meeting, with the understanding that Dr. Zeiss would restrict his deed so that only his building could be erected.

Ald. Pointer, however, had the matter referred back for more study because, he said, City Atty. Jury told him the restriction could be lifted at any time with consent of the person from whom Dr. Zeiss intends to buy the land.

Gets Agreement
Monday, Pointer got the commission to agree that the land would be rezoned back to residential district immediately if any other building is constructed.

It's not that he doesn't trust Dr. Zeiss, Pointer emphasized, but something could happen before the building is underway and the rezoning could open the way for a tavern other undesirable structure.

Such a move by the commission, Mayor Mitchell pointed out, wouldn't stop construction of a different building, but would forbid any remodeling or other work.

Pointer said there is only one known opponent in the neighborhood to the building proposed by Dr. Zeiss. Pointer said he personally favors the construction.

Denies Drunken Driving Charge

Clarence Bendt, 54, 1520 N. Graceland avenue, today in municipal court denied a charge of drunken driving and posted a property bond equivalent to $128.95 for trial March 24.

Bendt was arrested by Appleton police after they investigated an accident involving his car and a parked vehicle in the 1100 block of N. Oneida street about 9:30 Monday night.

High Court Upholds Rule On Adoption

Judge Staidl Ruled In Contest Over Peter Christl Estate

The supreme court today affirmed a decision by County Judge Stanley A. Staidl that a boy could inherit his grandfather's estate because an adoption nearly 38 years old could not be abrogated.

Judge Staidl ruled on the Peter A. Christl estate case last June.

The question of the adoption arose when sisters and brothers surviving Christl, who died at 67 Dec. 11, 1967, claimed that Christl's grandson was not his legal heir. Their claim was based on alleged adoption proceedings error in the adoption of Clifford A. Christl July 20, 1920, in the Outagamie county court by Peter Christl and his wife, Martha, who predeceased him.

Clifford Christl died in 1947, leaving his widow and a son. His widow has since remarried and was named guardian for the boy. They live in Green Bay. She filed papers in Judge Staidl's court for the boy, claiming he, as grandson of Peter Christl, was the only heir for the $16,000 estate.

Not Under Law

Sisters and brothers of Peter Christl claimed the adoption of Clifford did not conform with statutory law. Adoption proceedings fall under statutory law, not common law, and must conform to the law as it is carried on the books. Judge Staidl, in a search of the 1919 state law on adoptions, found that the adoption did conform to the law, although it would not under today's laws.

Peter Christl died without a will. He lived in Appleton all his life and worked at the Appleton Wire Works.

5-Day Jail Term

Adolph Ristau, 61, 1108 1/2 W. Lawrence street, was sent to the county jail today for 5 days for drunkenness. He was arrested by city police Feb. 21 on E. Franklin street.

State Fiscal Policies Meet Opposition

for relief and other costly matters, he continued, but the counties cannot be sure that such a review will be had, or that the second year figures will be boosted. As the budget stands, he reminded, counties stand to lose nearly a million dollars next year, and they will have no choice but to boost their local taxes since relief and other programs are dictated by state law.

That testimony was nettlesome enough, but committee Democrats also protested a letter Thelen had sent to county boards three weeks ago asking them to back him in opposing the Nelson budget procedure and demanding a "sum sufficient" for county programs involving state subsidies.

Political Motivation?

It was Sen. Stalbaum of Racine, Democratic finance spokesman, who charged that Thelen apparently had a political motivation and had played loosely with the truth in explaining the capitol's budget prospects.

But Thelen was unruffled. He is trying to protect his county clients, he said, in the only way he knows.

Thelen waited until early evening to make his appearance, only to be challenged by the Democrats in control of the committee.

As he turned to leave Sen. W. A. Draheim of Neenah remarked: "There are some members of this committee who agree with you." Draheim has been pushing for a two year budget, according to tradition and rule, against the wishes of the Democrats.

City Worries About Absentee Owners

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Louisville, Ky. — Usually, when I visit a city on a business trip for the first time, my hosts insist on driving me through the finest areas of town. And usually, they boast about the city's new houses, stores, civic centers, etc.

Here in Louisville, though, I was given the reverse treatment. For in Louisville, my land which in almost any other town I could have found through the downtown shopping district, the downtown streets bordering on the Ohio river, the downtown areas where once were mansions of Kentucky's oldest families. And I saw...

Bypass Downtown

Street after street choked with stores bearing nationally-known names but thoroughly identified with lower-income shoppers. Street after street deformed by massive, decaying structures shocking out of place in the heart of Kentucky's largest city. Street after street of old homes haphazardly turned into makeshift offices. And slums, used car lots, mini-mum-income apartments on to my hosts. "This I didn't expect." "Yes," nodded the operating head of one of the biggest industrial firms in the area. "When I bring in important people, I bypass downtown. I take the long way around so they don't see this area."

"This is the tragedy of Louisville," added another of the town's most prominent citizens, and he gave me statistics to prove what is happening. Although population has been expanding, the number of businesses in Louisville's central business district actually is down from a decade ago. The percentage of the city's retail sales in downtown has slumped from almost 50 per cent in 1948 to under 40 per cent now. Downtown Louisville is not only failing to progress; it is retreating rapidly.

Why?

The answer lies in the story I reported Monday. Specifically, absentee ownership — control of a vast portion of Louisville's industrial, financial and commercial enterprise by interests located elsewhere and concerned not with Louisville's beauty or potential growth, but primarily with maintaining their profit margins or return on an initial investment.

Harsh Indictment

It's a harsh indictment. But the evidence is unmistakable. As an illustration, many of the men in charge of big operations here are not really the bosses. They are branch managers. As one put it frankly to me, "We'd like to help in rebuilding Louisville, but it's not within our power to do so. We haven't the right to invest major capital."

"We must get permission from headquarters and they tell us, 'If we do it here, we must do it elsewhere. We can't participate in the redevelopment of every city in which we are located.'"

Headquarters' reply makes financial sense, but it doesn't help an absentee-owned city.

As a second illustration, in Louisville as in many other cities, the downtown land itself is owned "in trust," controlled by wealthy families who care more about dividends than about risking capital. On top of this land are stores owned by national field companies. And although Greenfield, head of City Stores, with which one of Louisville's major stores is affiliated, is tapped for a fat contribution to a study to wipe out the eyesores along the Ohio river just as New York has replaced her slums on the East river and is about to revive deteriorating properties along the Hudson river.

"The other day someone asked me why I cared so much about this," remarked one of my hosts. "Without thinking, I said, 'Why, I live here!'"

That one simple reply holds the key — and shouts a warning to all cities which welcome absentee ownership without pondering its implications and taking steps to offset its dangers.

Post-Crescent Photo

A Check Was One of the parting gifts for George Barry, 406 N. Bennett street, right, when he retired after nearly 46 years at First National bank. He started as a messenger boy and was an assistant vice president when he retired March 1. Making the presentation is Richard Beelen, a vice president.

46-Year Employee

Banker Retires After Watching Evolution to Age of Machines

BY BETTY KILICH
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

From behind his desk at First National bank, George Barry, 406 N. Bennett street, watched the world of banking go through the evolution of automation.

From hand-written ledgers, painfully, carefully and slowly inscribed in pen and ink, to the subdued clacking of electrically-run bookkeeping machines, from dutifully penned posting to the more streamlined methods used today, the veteran banker, now retired after nearly 46 years with the bank, has observed the changes in his profession.

When the 65-year-old banker accepted his first bank job of messenger-boy, the business from which he was to retire as an assistant vice president was growing, thriving with its city.

Ready to Move

Offices where Spector's Jewelry store now stands were growing too small and the business was building its present structure. The 12 employees, a force now grown to about 70, were getting ready to move into their new building, the grim days of World War I and the depression were still to come, and the change-over to the machine was far in the future.

"When I started the bank had only one typewriter and an adding machine. Most of the work was hand written," Barry reminisces. "When the first bookkeeping machine came in, in the early 20's, it was a day for rejoicing. Now most of the work is done by machines."

"In those days, checking accounts were held by those with quite a lot of money, now nearly everyone has a checking and savings account. Loans were more difficult to get unless the banker knew you personally. Now we can check on the credit ratings of total strangers and give them money if they are all right. The whole business has become more streamlined," Barry goes on.

Loan Department

When his association with the business began in the summer of 1913, he recalls, only one or two men handled the loan department—regardless of whether the loan fell into the commercial, mortgage or installment category. Now employees handle such transactions in the classifications in which they fall. He also noted how much easier it is to get a loan, thanks to the establishment of credit ratings, and how many more people take advantage of banking service.

"Of course, there weren't as many cars and household gadgets in those days," he explains, "so there wasn't as much need for loans, either."

As the services offered by the bank expanded, so, too, did the number of people taking advantage of them. Safe deposit boxes are being used more generally now, Barry continues. Customers use bank or personal money orders now where they used to use post office money orders. Total First National bank deposits, which were $24 million when he started, have grown to over $44 million.

Banking, like most other businesses, was grim in the depression," Barry recalls. "All the people were thinking of the safety of their money. We had large withdrawals, but the bank was in good condition and we didn't have to turn anyone down."

Anxious Time

"It was an anxious period and many banks were failing throughout the country. But we came out of it well and felt safe. Fortunately, many of our customers had confidence in us and didn't withdraw their money. If all our people had made big demands upon us at the same time, it may have been a different story."

Interest rates, too, have changed with the years. Interest on 1-year savings certificates used to be 3 per cent, now are 2 1/2 per cent; ordinary loans cost about 6 per cent (now considered a high rate, Barry explains) but now are about 5 1/2 per cent.

When the business moved into the quarters it now occupies, the banker, who served as messenger, draft clerk, bookkeeper, teller and assistant cashier before being promoted to assistant vice president, goes on, "everyone

Youth Center Name Contest Starts Today

Judging by New Advisory Board Slated Next Week

A name for Appleton's first public youth center at Reid Municipal Golf course will be selected next Tuesday night. Recreation Director Elmer W. Grover said Monday.

Entries will be sought from those attending tonight's and Thursday night's sessions in the clubhouse and will be judged by the center's newly-elected governing board, Grover said.

The governing board, called "the youth advisory committee," is composed of Mary Diedrich, Tom Zak, Sue Sether, Denny Krause, Sharon Hearden, Steve Gerhardt and Len Brash.

About 185 youths attended the session at which the committee was selected, Grover said.

Recommendations

Two recommendations were made:

1. Separate nights be established for junior and senior high school students.
2. A ping pong table be erected in the center.

The center is on a trial basis through about April 1. If it proves successful, the recreation commission has ruled it will sponsor an enlarged program next fall, after the golfing season.

The advisory committee, Grover reported, set up these rules for dress: No slacks, no "harley" boots and jackets off while dancing. Among rules which chaperones Mr. and Mrs. Cyril J. Burton have installed are no smoking and no card playing.

Ellington 4-H Club Plans Speech Contest

Ellington 4-H club will hold a speaking contest March 31. In charge of the program will be Mrs. Elmer Root, Marvin Delzer, Suzanne Laib and Sandra Klitzke.

Named to club committees were Lois Braun, Lowell Leitch and Helen Learman, music; Andrea Huebner, Suburban Laib and Carol Steidl, health and safety; Carol Steidl, clothing and Marvin Delzer, poultry and eggs.

was rattling around. Now with so many more people and machines, it seems cramped. We had to buy the building next to the bank some years ago and expanded into that, too, but there still doesn't seem to be enough room."

Border War

Barry took a leave from the banking business during the Mexican border wars when the National Guard, of which he was a member, was called to Texas to fight against Pancho Villa. He was with a headquarters company stationed at Fort Sam Houston just outside of San Antonio, but he didn't see action.

Barry also worked for First Trust company, a firm now dissolved, which was associated with First National bank for several years.

With no definite plans for the future, Barry hopes to make business headquarters on the second floor of the bank building, where the bank will open an office for retired employees.

What Red Cross Staff Aides Do

Staff Aides are another Red Cross volunteer group. There are 32 local volunteer Staff Aides working in many different and important jobs here in Outagamie County.

Red Cross Staff Aides work at Morgan School and at Winnebago State Hospital. At Morgan, they help in the library, or in moving the handicapped students from room to room, from floor to floor by wheel chair. This leaves therapists and teachers extra time for their main purpose in the necessary and special help they provide for these youngsters. This is not easy work, nor is it always pleasant for the volunteers, but they know their help is needed and satisfaction is their only reward.

Staff Aides help, too, with the typing of records for the doctors at Winnebago. They work in the library and in the music department. These Red Cross volunteers help "man" the TB x-ray unit and help with tutoring teenagers at the hospital. They're volunteers, your neighbors helping other neighbors.

Red Cross is many things to many people. It is a resource for disaster relief — whether disaster strikes through floods in Ohio or through tornadoes in Calfax or Berlin, Wisconsin. Mostly, Red Cross touches this community through its local volunteers and your membership fee helps make the work of these volunteers possible.

This year, enroll your entire family in a Joint Family Membership.

Y's Menettes List Committees For "The Brim for Spring" Show

The Y's Menettes are busily preparing table favors for their annual spring millinery show, "The Brim for Spring," which will be held at 9:30 a.m. March 12 at the First Methodist church. The felt favors also are being made for the Y's Menettes international convention. Left to right are Mrs. James Retson, co-chairman; Mrs. Fred Pettigrew, president, and Mrs. Jack Brauer, co-chairman.

The Y's Menettes have announced committee chairmen for the fourth annual spring millinery show and coffee hour, "The Brim for Spring." It will be held at 9:30 a.m. March 12 in the basement of the First Methodist church. Proceeds will go to the YM-CA Pla-School for nursery equipment.

Mrs. Jack Brauer and Mrs. James Retson are co-chairmen of the style show. Mrs. Earl Benz is coordinator, Mrs. Fred Kafura, Jr., chairman of arrangements, and Mrs. Hazel Markstrom will be commentator.

Other committee chairmen are the Mmes. Jack Worthen and Gordon Matson, tickets; Owen Kuehnmsted, publicity; Willard Smith and Eugene Brinkman, decorations; Frank Hardt and David Merrill, refreshments; Frank Wright and James Mohr, serving; Allen Gray, finances; Richard Plant, nursery; John Harkins, posters; Retson, welcome; and Harkins, assisting the models.

A preview of the show will be given on WFRV-TV at 4 p.m. Thursday. The decorations will have a spring theme. Hats are from an Appletan store.

The Y's Menettes are making table favors which also serve as felt facial tissue holders for the purse. The women are making the same type of favors for their international convention.

A nursery will be open for the children of Y's Menettes members.

Gretchen Kloehn Gets MA Degree From Radcliff

Miss Gretchen Kloehn, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Kloehn, 726 E. College avenue, received a master of arts degree in teaching Monday at Radcliff college, Cambridge, Mass.

Miss Kloehn received her bachelor of arts degree at Lawrence college in 1957.

Schedule Election

Women's Catholic Order of Foresters will elect officers at 8 p.m. Wednesday at St. Mary Catholic school.

"The Brim for Spring" is the Y's Menettes millinery show theme set for March 12. Modeling two of the creations designed for spring of 1959 are Mrs. Owen Kuehnmsted, who wears a red straw sailor hat with a medium brim, left, and Mrs. David Merrill, who has donned a soft red straw cloche with tiny brim and decorated with a flower cluster.

New Way to Serve Tasty Fish Fillets

A simple and flavored way of preparing fish fillets is to dot them with butter, top with sliced mushrooms or slit scallions; then put them in an airtight packet of aluminum foil and bake in a hot oven 20 minutes or until packets puff up. Slit the top of packet to serve.

AVS Open House Set March 15; Announce New Spring Classes

The work of the Appletan Vocational school will be demonstrated to the public at the school's annual open house from 1:30 to 5 p.m. March 15.

In order to "visualize" classroom, demonstrations in the homemaking division will be "live." Students will give step-by-step procedure, the "how-to" of construction and model class projects. Projects are being directed by Miss Doris W. Keup, coordinator.

Open New Classes — The open house marks the closing of the second 10-week period of class work March 13, and the opening of the spring quarter March 16.

New classes are being offered in upholstery, slip covering, draperies and lampshades, both for 10 weeks; advanced clothing construction and general crafts, both for six weeks, and a course in diet kitchen, for five weeks. Registration is now open for all classes.

The diet kitchen is for the weight-conscious and will stress food selection and nutrition. The course is tailored for the homemaker who wishes to reduce on the same varied and ample menu that she serves her family.

Food charts, calorie guides and medically-approved diets will be included. The course will be taught by Mrs. Robert Rusch, Appletan, and will be open to men and women.

Classes will be from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday and from 9 to 11 a.m. Tuesday. Nyles Popendieck, Chilton, will instruct upholstery classes Monday from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. and 7 to 10 p.m., and Tuesday from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m., 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. and 7 to 10 p.m.

Slipcovering classes, which will include the construction of draperies and lampshades, will be taught by Mrs. Alta Bethke, Appletan, beginning March 23. Monday classes will be from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m., 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. and 7 to 10 p.m. Tuesday classes will be 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. and 7 to 10 p.m.

Offer Varied Crafts — Mrs. Ralph Schatz, Appletan, will teach advanced clothing construction. Classes will be from 8:30 to 11 a.m. Wednesday and Thursday, and from 1:30 to 4 p.m. Monday.

General crafts will be offered from 1:30 to 4 p.m. Tuesday with Miss Hazel Smith as instructor. Students can work in a medium of their own choice, including metal en-

Begin Now To Summer Job Hunt

It's never too early to look for a summer job. Let the procrastinators reap the "job filled" slips. Early birds deserve their rewards.

If you organize your job hunt now, you'll be ahead all along the line—you may get a choice of jobs, you will have time to create a "captivating" letter to employers and to interview prospective employers before you make a decision. If you wait, chances are you'll take the first thing that comes along, and then if you've made a mistake, you're stuck.

One of the great buys for the money is the newspaper ad. It is the way to reach the person you are trying to attract, a more direct method than canvassing organizations willy-nilly. Even if a job is placed with an agency, chances are the personnel manager looks at the "work wanted" classifications in the paper.

Other good job possibilities may be available through friends of the family. If parents suggest that you write to these people, don't be shy about it. They wouldn't advise it unless they felt your effort would be welcome. And sometimes these friends may have good suggestions to make, even though they cannot hire you themselves.

If you plan to advertise, consider the specialized job and you will surely get responses.

Baby sitting is a natural, of course, for vacationing students. These jobs often lead to wonderful trips—to the seashore, mountains or other resorts. At home many parents like to have their children supervised at swimming pools or at playgrounds. A girl who has a way with children will find her summer baby sitting jobs paying off in year-round weekend and evening jobs.

There are always the routine jobs, of course—filing, typing, stenography, telephone operator, selling. Big companies often are your best bet on these jobs as they are willing to be contacted early, and if they are not ready to make a decision will put your application in the priority group if you are suited to the job.

Make Storage Bin From Garbage Can

Paint the outside of a galvanized garbage can an appropriate color and put a large decal on the center of one side and use it to store unused garments or blankets in it. This is mouse proof and mothproof with the addition of a few moth crystals. This may be stored safely in the basement or attic. There is no need to decorate the can unless you really wish to do so.

Your Problems

Man With Manners Wonders If They're Going Out of Style

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: Girls of today smoke, swear, drink in bars, wear trousers, drive motorcycles and work alongside men in factories. Yet they feel insulted if they are not offered a seat on the bus. They complain the American male is rude. They say they want to be treated like ladies. Yet not one of the girls I take out will permit me to open a car door or help her with her coat.

When I tried to assist a young woman who was struggling to retrieve an earring which had fallen behind a piano, she pushed me aside and said "Thank heavens I still have my health!"

Last week I rose when my date returned from the powder room. She said "Where are you going?" I said "Nowhere." She asked "Why are you standing?" When I replied it was good manners to do so, she said "Boy, are you a square. Knock it, Clyde." (My name is Al).

Have manners gone out of style? What's the word?—Al

DEAR CLYDE—I mean Al: Manners are still very much in style, and ladies still like to be treated like ladies. The big question is, where do you find these piano-movers you've been taking out? I suggest you raise your sights and take out girls who appreciate a gentleman.

DEAR ANN: This is not the kind of problem a person can discuss easily. I need help.

I've been married eight years and have three active children. My husband gets home from work at 4:45 in the afternoon. I'm rarely finished with the housework and dinner preparation by that time. He thinks I should drop everything the minute he walks into the house and make love to him.

When I tell him I have work to do, or I'm too tired, he acts like a 3-year-old. He pouts and sulks, throws things around and slams doors. Sometimes he even walks out of the house and goes to the tavern for a beer.

What can I do with a man who is so childish and selfish? Please print your advice. I will show him the column.

—Jan

DEAR JAN: You'll probably hide the column when you read the advice.

I suggest you reorganize your housework, sneak in a nap after lunch so you won't be tired, or just let a few things go.

There's more to being a good wife than waxing the linoleum.

DEAR ANN: Never thought I'd be writing to you, but then I'll bet everybody says that. I've had so much unsolicited advice from friends and relatives, my head is about to pop. Please, Ann, give me your ideas.

I was very much in love with a girl before I left for the navy. She was only 18 (I was 21) but I thought she was mature and knew what she wanted. She wrote wonderful letters and I dreamed of marrying her when I got out of the service.

Last week I was discharged. She met me at the bus depot, with my folks. She looked heavier and older, and didn't seem quite so gay. That night she told me she had had a baby less than six weeks before I got home. She says she was secretly married and divorced, but I don't believe it.

My folks say she's a tramp, and ran with every salesman who passed through town. They knew about the baby but didn't want to write me. When I asked her why she didn't write she said she wanted to tell me in person.

I can't bring myself to look at the baby. She wants to get married right away. I'm heartsick and undecided. What is your advice?—Away Too Long

Don't get married right away. Date others (and this one, too, if you feel like it) for at least six months. She sounds like a fifth-rate marriage risk at best. Watch out.

Mount Mary Alums Hear Lenten Talk At Retreat House

The Rev. Alcuin Schutkowski, OFM, Cap., spoke on Lent when the Fox Valley chapter of Mount Mary alumnae met for its February meeting at Monte Alverno Retreat house.

A holy hour with benediction was part of the program.

Heads Fraternity

New London — Jerry L. Zaug, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Zaug, 1107 Wyman street, has been elected president of the Chicago university chapter of Alpha Delta Phi.

Lawrence's WRA Plans Folk Dance Festival

Six national groups will be represented in the annual folk dance festival scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Friday in the campus gym at Lawrence college. The Women's Recreation association each year sponsors the program in which each sorority gives one dance in appropriate costumes.

Joan Paddock, Palos Heights, Ill., the 1959 chairman, has announced the evening's program. Delta Gamma will do an American Indian dance; Pi Beta Phi, Japanese fan dance; Kappa Delta, the "Arkon," a Ukrainian dance; Alpha Delta Pi, the Italian tarantella; Kappa Alpha Theta, the "zat pwe," a Burmese dance; and the Independents association, the Austrian "watschentanz."

Each performance is judged on enthusiasm in portrayal, accuracy of execution, and costumes. Judges will be Leonard Weiss, Mrs. Merton Sealts, and Miss Inge Weiss. Advisors are Mrs. L. C. Bateman, and Miss Leta Lyon, Lawrence physical education instructors.

Little Symphony Plays With Bright, High-Spirited Style

By Marguerite Schumann

There has been considerable helter-skelter between the Lawrence conservatory of music and the Muhlenbach hotel in Kansas City this past ten days, while the Lawrence faculty rallied around their chief LaVahn Maesch at the moment he was elected president of the Music Teachers National association.

All this mileage wrought havoc with ensemble rehearsals of all types—a fact most keenly appreciated by Kenneth Byler, who will take his Little Symphony on the road this weekend for a concert tour. In fact, Director Byler dolefully observed before he set foot on the stage of Peabody hall for the home concert last evening that this was just another rehearsal as far as he was concerned.

The head man's gloom was totally unfounded, however, for whatever the deficiencies in preparation, the pocket-sized orchestra came through with youthful health and high-spirited style.

Excellent Repertoire

One of the happiest aspects to the evening was the repertoire, which lay principally within the Elysian Fields of the 17th and 18th centuries. According to this set of ears, the writing of Haydn, Arne, Lully and Cimarosa are salubritly itself for chamber orchestra and chamber audience alike.

There was—for example—a bully British overture from Artaxerxes by Dr. Arne, followed by Haydn's hale Symphony No. 47 in B flat major, which left everyone thinking very agreeable thoughts about Papa Haydn's serene century.

Jean Baptiste Lully's Suite for Orchestra was genuinely charming, and showed some of the most delicate fine-lined playing of the 90 minute course.

Dramatic Points

There were three dramatic points to the evening, two of them pre-planned, one of them spontaneous. The latter was the moment when an amplifier in a tape recorder caught fire in the balcony and stirred the authorities to tiptoe action.

The other high points generated fire of quite another sort—the fire of technically excellent, deeply poetic playing from two young lady wind players in the senior class.

Marjo Smith lent a honeyed oboe and sophisticated arching style to Domenico Cimarosa's Siciliana and Allegro guisto, with the backing of the string section. Her musical growth in the last four years and the artistic ease presently achieved are genuinely warming.

Moods Communicated

Patricia Miller, in her second major appearance in two days (her senior recital took place about 28 hours earlier) was equally effective as soloist in Kent Kennan's Night Soliloquy for flute, piano and strings. The music was lean, understated, and gently disturbing, and Miss Miller communicated those moods handsomely.

From the contemporaries, Director Byler chose the number-toned "Pavanne For A Dead Princess" by Ravel and Bartok's Suite for Orchestra, which drew bright miniatures of Balkan peasant life. The demand for encores was also satisfied in a current vein.

Quiet, Please—With Help of Carpet

No one need be told how much less thunderous is the patter of little feet in the house when carpet goes down on the floors, or the difference it makes to apartment dwellers when the traffic upstairs is rug cushioned. But shoe leather makes impact noise, and today's homes also suffer increasingly from airborne noise, from the street and the neighbors' growing assortments of children, TV sets, radios and hi-fi. Sound conditioning to take care of these noises, too, becomes a big problem. Here again floor covering counts, and far more than was thought until recent tests were made of the acoustical properties of carpet.

In these scientific tests it was discovered that carpet's ability to absorb air-borne noise has been underestimated, that it absorbs this type of sound as well as many specialized acoustical materials and 10 times as much noise as other kinds of floors and floor coverings. What the carpet fiber is, natural or man-made, or whether the pile is cut or uncut, matters little, the tests show. But the deeper and denser the pile is the more effective it is in quieting the room, and the underlay is important — hair felt, the thicker the better, and foam rubber or a combination of the two, are the best help in noise reduction.

South, two-no-trump rebid was a stretch, but he came out all right.

West made his natural opening lead, the spade queen, and right then and there declarer had to make a crucial decision. Should he try for five club tricks via a finesse, or should he go out for dummy's diamonds? If the diamond queen lay right, he could make four tricks there and would need only one trick in clubs.

The club finesse could always be taken, so South properly decided to investigate the diamond suit. He led to dummy's nine. East won with the queen and returned a spade. Now, with his last spade stopper gone, South had no further choice; he had to try the club finesse. He went to the heart king and returned the club eight, and success smiled on him.

If East had carefully considered the bidding and had looked at the cards in his own hand and dummy, he might have reconstructed exactly what was going through South's mind in respect to alternative lines of play. It was extremely likely that South had an almost solid club suit to fall back on when he saw that the diamonds lay unfavorably. Thus, East's duty was to make the diamond situation look favorable. He should have taken the diamond nine with the ace!

South would have had to be clairvoyant against this defense. Why, the diamond finesse against the queen would apparently be proved! So, after winning East's spade return, South would surely take that diamond finesse rather than the presumably much riskier club finesse.

Letts Furnishes Map Of 40-Acre Proposed Junior High Tract

Frank O. Letts, Winslow, Ariz., has furnished the city with a map of a 40-acre tract in the town of Grand Chute he is offering for a junior high school site.

The tract apparently lies just south of Mossholder road, between the extensions of Oneida and Richmond streets.

Letts, in making his offer earlier, said he wants $1,200 an acre. City Clerk Broehm sought the map on instructions of the board of public works, which couldn't determine the property location.

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Did you ever stop to think that when baby gets an out-of-sorts spell, it may be that he's trying to accomplish something—like trying to turn over—to sit up—or reach something that's out of reach? If you can't determine just what it is that baby wants, an extra helping of attention and affection often works in getting baby over the rough spot.

An iron story. Any doctor will tell you that babies need more iron than they get from milk. Gerber prepares your baby's cereals with this important nutritional need in mind. According to actual laboratory analysis, 3 tablespoons of any Gerber Cereal provide more than half the amount of iron baby needs daily. What's more, it's a special form of iron that can be readily absorbed by infants. Like all Gerber Baby Foods, the Cereals are prepared with specialized care to insure the utmost in quality and nutritive value.

Extra mouth-watering and nourishing, too! That's the story on Gerber Strained and Junior Soups and Dinners. These hearty "casserole dishes" combine 3 important food groups: vegetables, meat and cereal, for delightful flavor and an assortment of wholesome food values. A grand choice: 8 Strained and 10 Junior varieties, including these small-fry favorites—Chicken Noodle Dinner and Macaroni, Tomato, Beef and Bacon in both varieties. ## Argument Ensues Over Autograph

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please settle an argument that has been going on between my husband and me ever since the other night when we went to a well-known supper club after the theater. Seated at a table next to ours was a very well known movie star, and incidentally, one of my favorites. Very quietly I leaned over and asked her if she would give me her autograph. She said she would be delighted. My husband thinks that it showed lack of manners on my part and said that I had embarrassed him by my behavior. I think a person in public life encounters this all the time and I certainly see nothing wrong in what I did. What is your opinion?

Answer: That it embarrassed your husband is the only reason your asking for the autograph was wrong. The movie star is so accustomed to being asked for an autograph that I am sure she did not mind.

Use of Sir

Dear Mrs. Post: I teach in an elementary school where our principal encourages the children to answer him, "Yes Sir" and "No Sir." I agree with him in feeling that this is good training. I also speak to him that way especially when children are present. My girl friend teaches in the same school and says this is in bad taste. She claims that only servants use this term when speaking to their employers. Will you please clear this up for us?

Answer: Your girl friend is mistaken. Sir properly is used in speaking to any older man whether he is your employer or not.

Personal Invitation

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been seeing a boy quite steadily for the last three months and he has invited me to his house for Sunday dinner so that I may meet his parents. Will it be proper for me to go on his invitation alone and, if so, should I take a box of candy for his mother?

Answer: It is very important that his mother send you a personal invitation either by telephone or a note. It is not at all expected that you take anything to her. In fact, it would be better not to.

July Exams Set For Appointments To Academies

The civil service commission will hold examinations in July for appointments to United States service academies. Sen. Alexander Wiley said today.

Applicants must be high school seniors or graduates, over 17 but not yet 22, unmarried and able to meet academic and physical standards.

Applicants also must file a letter by June 15 of intention to take the examinations, along with a certificate of residence in the state and two letters of character recommendation from the applicant's principal, pastor, physician or other person.

Letters should be addressed to Sen. Wiley, Room 427, senate office building, Washington 25, D. C.

Available appointments include one to the U. S. military academy, two to the naval academy, one to the air force academy and nomination of 10 applicants to compete for seven openings from Wisconsin to attend the merchant marine academy.

Fashion trends rise and fall, like a swing in slow motion. Keeping tabs on these movements offers several advantages. It enables you to catch a rising fashion, one that will not become outmoded until it is worn out. In sequence, your clothing dollops go further; many new short jackets and purchases become additions to your wardrobe, instead of hint at a high waistline and replacements. You have more clothes to wear, and day dresses with tiered or ruffled skirts.

Better Fed

Australian models look better fed than the American variety, says Bijur, and are very attractive, but the mannikins used in department store windows are years behind those seen in American cities.

The home-sewing expedition paused in Hawaii en route, and there Bijur was impressed by the color and variety of native fashions, particularly the Muu-Muu. Says he:

"Hawaiians are doing every imaginable variation of the Muu-Muu, and they all look glamorous not at all like the shapeless Mother Hubbards that pass for Muu-Muus here. Some are fitted, some are 2-piece, and all look exotic.

"They also have a wonderful outfit they wear for lounging and beach wear. It's called the 'poi pounder' and it consists of skinny black pants and a brilliantly striped coat top.

"When the 'poi pounder' hits America, look out!"

Our Children

Parents Who Shun Duty Court Trouble

BY ANGELO PATEI

There are some things that children do for which their parents must shoulder most of the responsibility.

Thus, when parents, to get the young people out of their hair, give them cars which, in their youth and inexperience, they are not prepared to use wisely, or when they give them motor boats carrying big motor power so they can ride on a lake where a summer resort is located, parents are liable.

A car is a dangerous machine when it is handled in inexperience and ignorance. All young people in their early years love to show off their possessions and their power over them, and this way lies danger to themselves and others.

One has but to listen to the stories the neighbors tell and read news stories concerning young people, their boats and cars.

A boy scarcely out of his childhood was given a motor boat, a high powered one, and his idea of fun was to ram a boat in which a girl was riding. Then he thought it great fun to get as close to the swimmers as possible and swish them with the big waves his boat made.

Giving children money, cars, motor boats, tickets to movies, for the purpose of keeping the children amused and from annoying their elders is opening the door to trouble for which the parents are mainly responsible.

There are children's errors for which parents are not responsible. A parents may do everything within his power to teach and train a child to the good ways of life and yet see that child wander from it. When he has done all he can do and his child strays, surely he is not responsible. There are children one can train and there are those who cannot be trained. We know the reasons for some of these failures, but for others we have no explanation.

We are all bothered by delinquent children in the big cities and towns. In one city 3 per cent of the population furnish 90 odd per cent of the offenders. Why?

Here are people who are unemployable, people who are not prepared to live according to modern standards of sanitation, morals and law, people who are housed worse than cattle.

Who is responsible for them? Not the parents, and to talk of fining them for the children's errors is futile. The cure lies at the roots of society's dealing with these 90-odd per cent of offenders.

Democrats Plan 3-Day Meeting In Milwaukee

Party Leaders From 13 Midwest States Will Attend Session

Milwaukee — (AP) — Democratic party leaders from 13 Midwest states will meet in Milwaukee next Thursday through Saturday.

Jake More of Harlan, Iowa, permanent chairman of the 13-state conference, said at Omaha Sunday that Paul Butler, national party chairman, will attend the meeting.

Besides Butler, principal speakers will include Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and William Proxmire of Wisconsin. Governors planning to attend are Ralph Brooks of Nebraska, Orville Freeman of Minnesota, G. Mennen Williams of Michigan and Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin.

More said that growing interest by Kennedy forces in the 1960 presidential nomination was evidenced when Theodore Sorenson of Lincoln, Neb., chief administrative assistant to Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, announced he would attend.

The program will include a governor's conference, panel discussions on state and national problems and a workshop on 1960 campaign plans.

(Outagamie county Democrats planning to attend the session are Party Chairman Mrs. William Cherkasky, Mrs. John Kern and Miss Agnes Jolin.)

Dick Stone, 15, Oklahoma City high school student, is being treated for injuries suffered when a home-made bomb brought to school by a classmate exploded. Stone's eyes, arms and hand were injured by the blast but physicians say he will not lose his sight. Other students were not injured.

Warns Against Force In Crisis Over Berlin

Berlin situation has dangerous implications which must be settled by negotiation and not by force.

"Unilateral action can only lead to danger," Macmillan said. "We must avoid unilateral action and agree to negotiate together. Upon that theme we can make progress."

HE Described — 6th graf

He described his conversations with Khrushchev as "long, careful private talks held in an informal atmosphere with each free to speak his mind to the other."

A communist correspondent asked Macmillan if he thought the time was now nearer when defensive alliances could be abandoned.

"We have to work steadily forward from point to point," Macmillan said.

He argued that an agreement on European problems would accelerate the drive toward some later broad agreement between east and west, but he declared "it is not a good rule to try and make new friends by abandoning old ones."

Good Will Needed

Macmillan said negotiations must be accompanied by a desire to reach "sincere agreement."

Macmillan said the real value of his talks with the Russians has been to provide each government with a better understanding of each other's positions and motives.

The prime minister said his visit has made it easier for international negotiations which "must take place over these immediate and difficult problems."

He said yesterday's Soviet note agreeing to the western proposal for a foreign ministers meeting on the German question has made it clear that there is general agreement that disputes "must be settled, can be settled, and will be settled by negotiations."

A Soviet spokesman asked what Macmillan's stand was on Khrushchev's repeated offer to Britain of a non-aggression pact.

Offers Own Proposal

Macmillan returned to his own offer in a speech last night to sign a 3-point declaration with Khrushchev pledging neither nation to use force to settle disputes.

Asked whether British policy over nuclear weapons tests had changed as a result of his talks with Khrushchev, Macmillan reiterated that he put certain ideas on the subject to the Soviet leaders.

These ideas, he said, had appeared to attract the Kremlin leaders as constructive.

"Now," said Macmillan, "we must consult our friends to see if further advances can be made."

He said he would raise this and other matters with his West German, French and United States colleagues.

Soviet correspondents dominated the news conference with long statements gradually building up to questions.

Once or twice Macmillan, sitting at a table on a blue-curtained stage with Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and British Ambassador Sir Patrick Reilly, looked impatient as a correspondent talked and talked.

Sees Progress

On purely British-Soviet affairs, Macmillan said his talks with Khrushchev had produced "modest but definite progress" on cultural relations.

He cited two examples.

One was the Soviet permission for a large contingent of British and American newsmen to travel in Russia with Macmillan.

The second point, he said, was that "I could say what I wished" to the Russian people in his TV broadcast last night.

On trade, Macmillan said "there is a possibility of increasing the tempo."

Khrushchev accompanied Macmillan on the 18-mile drive to the airport. Foreign diplomats and Soviet officials were among the throng that gathered to see the prime minister's departure.

Khrushchev's Farewell

In a speech of farewell before a set of microphones, Khrushchev told Macmillan "we want to eliminate all obstacles to peaceful coexistence."

"We believe we have understood your position correctly and we hope you have understood ours," he said.

"You and I have seen two world wars. You yourself were twice wounded in the first World War and your people have experienced all the horrors of a second world war."

"We, too, have experienced extremely precise measurements of course and speed.

A maximum takeoff speed of 24,000 miles an hour made it certain the probe would continue into an orbit around the sun, the scientists said. No estimates of the shape or size of the orbit were promised before Thursday or Friday.

By 3:30 a. m. the space probe, losing speed as it rose, was estimated to be 42,100 all the horrors of the second World War, and that is why we have to do our utmost to avoid a third World War.

"Now you know our position better and will be able to outline it to your government and to your allies."

"We are in favor of solving all disputed issues only by peaceful negotiations."

Berlin Proposals

Khrushchev touched briefly on the Soviet proposals to end the 4-power occupation of Berlin, convert West Berlin into a demilitarized free city, and turn over Soviet traffic controls to communist East Germany.

He said they had been made "only to remove the hotbeds of war."

"Today an enormous responsibility lies on the shoulders of those men placed at the heads of government," he said.

"We must do everything in our power to prevent war and to justify the confidence placed in us."

Macmillan said that as a result of his visit he has no doubt that he will now "better be able to tackle those issues on which the future of mankind depends."

"The greatest danger to the maintenance of peace lies in misunderstandings and suspicions — and sometimes genuine mistakes," he said.

Study Restricted Zone

He ended his speech by saying in Russian "Dovsidanya I vsevo khoroshevo (see you again and best wishes)."

There was loud applause from the crowd.

The joint communique touched on the possibility of the establishment of a restricted zone in Europe in which all weapons would be limited under an inspection system.

Macmillan and Khrushchev said they considered that the future negotiations on Germany "could lay the foundation for a stable system of European security."

"In this connection," the communique continued, "they agreed that further study could usefully be made of the possibility of increasing security by some method of limitation of forces and weapons, both conventional and nuclear, in an agreed area of Europe, coupled with an appropriate system of inspection."

This appeared to revive western proposals several years ago that a limited start toward controlled disarmament be made in a European zone extending on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

The communists have since expanded the proposal into the Polish Rapacki plan for a neutral zone from which all nuclear weapons would be barred.

Macmillan and Khrushchev said their discussions "ranged over some of the more important questions which are currently of general international concern."

"Although they did not hold negotiations," the communique continued, "the prime ministers have explained their attitude, and the reasons underlying it, on all the questions discussed."

"The free interchange of views and ideas which has taken place has created a better understanding of the respective attitudes of the two governments, and has thereby made a useful contribution toward the forthcoming international discussions in a wider circle..."

6,000 miles an hour.

At 6:47 a. m. a mammoth antenna in the Mojave desert of southern California picked up "a good solid signal" from Pioneer IV. The antenna, 85 feet in diameter, at the Goldstone observatory was designed to detect signals even after the probe moved 50,000 miles away from the earth on its flight to the moon, about 20,000 miles away.

4-Stage Rocket

Powered by a 4-stage Juno II rocket, the probe was hurled aloft from Cape Canaveral, Fla., at 11:10 a. m. CST in a launching described "as near perfect as could be determined."

Two and one-half hours later, jubilant scientists of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration here reported "very favorable" results.

The predicted success of this attempt came after four U.S. failures to orbit or pass the moon. One of three air force tries sent a probe up 71,300 miles before it fell back to earth and was burned up in the atmosphere. The army's first try ended at 63,580 miles.

The Russians claim to have established the first man-made planet in a solar orbit after a launching last Jan. 4.

20 Inches Long

Pioneer IV, whose gold plate provides an antenna to relay radio instrumentation back to earth, is 20 inches long and weighs 13 pounds. It is loaded with instruments to measure radioactivity in space and already has sent back much data, the scientists said.

Although it was labeled a clear success, Pioneer IV missed advance expectations in some respects.

It had been aimed to go within 10,000 to 20,000 miles of the moon. Instead, it will pass to closer than 35,000 miles. Dr. William H. Pickering, head of NASA's jet propulsion laboratory at Pasadena, Calif., said the angle at which it was injected into its trajectory "seems to have been off somewhat."

"The reason for this we do not know at this time," he said.

The Russians claim to have come within 3,000 to 4,000 miles of the moon.

Report From England

The off-course bearing which Pickering confirmed was first reported from Jodrell Bank, England, where scientists manning a big radio telescope said the probe appeared to be several degrees lower than the planned path.

One of Pioneer IV's assigned scientific tasks was to test a pistol-shaped photoelectric sensor, designed to determine whether later probes might take television pictures of the moon.

Pickering said the photoelectric device, triggered by the light of the moon, would work only within 20,000 miles of the moon — not at 35,000 miles distance.

Otherwise, the shoot was described as nearly perfect. Although bad weather had postponed the attempt for two days, it approached the ideal at Cape Canaveral last night.

The blast-off time was just four seconds off that planned for the probe, and all four stages of the rocket fired in sequence. It went into its trajectory about four minutes after leaving the ground.

Dr. Abe Silverstein, NASA's director of space flight development, said the Pioneer's top speed was well above the 24,585 miles an hour he said was needed to boost it out of the Snow Flurries are Expected tonight over the Great Lakes area, the Ohio river valley and northern Appalachians. Showers may fall in northern Florida and snow is expected in the northern Rockies. It will be warmer in the great plains and cooler east of the Mississippi river.

Chances Slim For Direct Hit on Moon

10,000 to One Odds Placed on Striking Target

Cape Canaveral, Fla. — (AP) — The army says its lunar probe fired today never had better than one chance in 10,000 of making a direct hit on the moon. Why can't they aim better than that?

Here's a rough example of the army's problem:

You are on a golf tee. The tee is on a spinning merry-go-round. The green for which you will aim your shot is moving, too, at about 88 feet a minute.

Think you can make a hole in one?

Sure it sounds impossible, but wait. You haven't heard the half of it.

More Problems

While the ball is in the air, two huge magnets, one behind you and the other on the far side of the green, are pulling and tugging at the ball. You've got to allow for that, too.

If this sounds confusing, it may help you to know that it bothers the mathematicians, also.

Isaac Newton established the principle of gravitation which explains the motion of a planet around the sun. But Newton could solve only 2-body problems.

For centuries, astronomers have tried without success to compute the motions of bodies when three or more are involved—such as, in this case, the earth, the moon and the probe.

Lacking this formula, the army relied on computing the earth's main gravitational pull.

The measured speed of 24,585 miles an hour fell short of the planned 24,985 miles an hour, he said, but added that rocketeers always plan on a higher velocity to give them a margin to work with.

Pickering predicted that as the space probe passes the moon its position with respect to the earth would be over the Pacific ocean "somewhat south and west of Hawaii."

Although preliminary reports came from numerous ground stations, the eventual job of tracking Pioneer will fall to an observatory at Goldstone Dry Lake, Camp Irwin, Calif.

Fox Cities Mercury Level Drops Slightly

Cloudy skies, scattered snow flurries and temperatures hovering on both sides of the freezing mark featured the Fox Cities weather picture today.

Appleton had a 24-hour high of 41 and an overnight low of 30. Temperature at 11 o'clock was 35. A quarter of an inch of snow fell overnight.

Lake Geneva reported the state high of 46 degrees. Milwaukee's 42-degree reading was the highest there since Dec. 28, when 47 was recorded.

Brule, Grantsburg and Superior had the state lows of 16 degrees. Minimums ranged from seven to 15 degrees above normal for the season.

Big Piney, Wyo., had the national low with 4 above zero early today. Thermal, Calif., had the national high of 91.

chines to make numerical approximations. These are believed to be accurate within 50 miles at the distance of the moon—providing the probe is fired in exactly the right direction, at the right velocity and at the right time.

In figuring the direction, the rocket men had to consider that the firing pad moves at more than 1,000 miles an hour as the earth rotates on its axis. And the moon moves in its orbit at 2,000 miles an hour.

Every four minutes, the aiming direction of the rocket must be changed by one degree. At the lunar distance of 230,000 miles, an error of one degree in aiming would mean a miss of 4,000 miles.

Gene Conley, 'Birdie' Trade Verbal Blasts; Billy Loes Finally Signs

Pitcher-Cager Says He Owes Braves
No Obligation; Wise and Rice in Fold

By The Associated Press
Temperamental Billy Loes and hooper Gene Conley today were running neck and neck for designation as major league baseball's No. 1 bad boy.

Loes, the only ball player ever to claim he lost a ground ball in the sun, ended another brief feud with the Baltimore management Monday and signed his contract.

The 29-year-old pitcher, long known for his eccentric actions, oftentimes has clashed with Orioles Manager Paul Richards since he was sold by Brooklyn in 1956.

Loes, sometime in April," Conley said. The Braves, however, did receive some good news when infielder Casey Wise and Del Rice signed, leaving only Conley, first baseman Joe Adcock and pitcher Don McMahon as holdouts.

The Washington Senators brought two holdouts into the fold, getting signed contracts from Jim Lemon, who hit 26 home runs last year, and Albie Pearson, the American league's rookie of the year.

MC Point Title Won by Grimm

Vikes' Rasmussen, Knocke Finish Among Top 7

Conley drew a blast from Milwaukee Executive Vice President "Birdie" Tebbetts. He has been playing professional basketball with the Boston Celtics and refused to report for spring training. The Braves pitcher, who had a 0-6 mark last year, insists he will not report before the cage season ends.

Said Tebbetts: When we gave Conley permission to play basketball it was with the understanding that he would quit that sport by Feb. 15. Now he feels he owes an obligation to the Celtics. He must feel no obligation to us.

"If they're tired of paying my summer employment," Conley said, "perhaps the whole thing could be cleaned up with a little trade or a little sale."

Conley, who arrived in Milwaukee to visit his family while on the road with the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball association, was lashed over Tebbetts' criticism.

Tebbetts also had said that the Braves paid Conley an average annual salary of $22,500 over the past five years, including World Series money.

Ripon — Carleton's Ivan Grimm won the Midwest conference individual scoring title for 1958-9 with the second highest all-time average of 27.2 points per game. He finished with 434 points.

The only higher average in conference annals is the 30.2 mark set by Ron Bontemps, Beloit, in 1949-50.

Ripon's Pete Kassin finished strong to become runner-up behind Grimm with a 22.7 average and a total of 363.

Lawrence's Jim Rasmussen and "Chuck" Knocke came home fifth and seventh, respectively, in the scoring derby with averages of 18.8 and 17.8.

The 15 leaders:

Not Under Contract
"If I'm not under contract to the Braves — which I'm not — how can I owe them an obligation?" Conley said. "The only team I owe an obligation to now is the Celtics."

"And I don't think it's anybody's business what my salary was over the last five years and I don't like the idea of them making it public," he added.

Conley, 0-6 last year, also said that he never told anyone with the Milwaukee organization that he would leave the Celtics and be at Bradenton for spring training by the Feb. 15 date.

"I'm staying with them (the Celtics) until after the play-

Milton Stops Carroll In NAIA Playoff Tilt

Milton — Ken Gifelson chipped in 21 points Monday night in powering Milton to a 75-72 basketball victory over Carroll in a National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) playoff tilt.

The triumph for Milton allows the team to play host to Platteville State Thursday night to decide the District 14 representative to the NAIA meet in Kansas City.

Carroll was ahead 31-30 at intermission but Milton snapped back to take the lead.

Bonduel Plays Clints In Shawano Regional

Host Indians Seek Fourth Consecutive Crown; Tourney Opens Thursday Night

Shawano Tourney

Thursday Night's Games:
Game No. 1—Bonduel vs. Clintonville (7:15).
Game No. 2—Shawano vs. Pulaski (8:45).

Friday Night's Games:
Game No. 3—Losers Game 1 vs. Losers Game 2.
Game No. 4—Winner Game 1 vs. Winner Game 2.

Shawano High's Indians start their search for their fourth straight regional tournament title (and fourth straight state tourney trip) Thursday night when play begins in the Shawano Sub-Regional Basketball tournament.

The Indians meet Pulaski at 8:45, following the 7:15 tourney opener between Bonduel and Clintonville.

Shawano and Bonduel have the best season records going into the tournament — identical 13-7 marks. Clintonville's overall standard is 6-12 and Pulaski's is 3-15.

The champion and consolation winner in the tournament compete in the Regional finals at Shawano Saturday night against corresponding clubs from the Waupaca Sub-Regional.

Nault Top Scorer
Bonduel, of the Central Wisconsin conference, has been paced by high — scoring 5-8 guard Steve Nault, operating behind a 6-4 front line. Junior Nault has scored 418 points in 20 games, an average of 21 per game.

Bill Dussling, a 6-4 junior, is a key man in the big forecourt lineup.

Leon Westphal, the Truckers' top Mid-Eastern conference scorer, and Keith Lambie, both 5-11 junior forwards, are the backbone of the Clintonville club. The only plus 6-footer is 6-2 center Jim Sutcliffe.

Shawano, which has dropped four of its last five games is sparked by 5-10 guard — forward Phil Timm and 6-4 center Ron Hoppe, both of whom have scored over 200 points.

LeRoy Demery (5-10) and Charlie Dorn (6-1) are Pulaski's top pointmakers.

Madison East '5' Wins in Opener

By The Associated Press
Madison East opened defense of its Wisconsin Intercollegiate Athletic association basketball crown Monday night with a 56-52 victory over Wisconsin High of Madison in a sub-regional meeting.

Competition in sub-regional divisions opened at 14 sites and resumes Thursday. By Saturday, 20 regional championships will be decided.

Coach Sid Gillman of the Los Angeles Rams puts a helmet on the head of griddier Ollie Matson during a bit of horseplay at a news conference in Los Angeles Monday. Matson went to the Rams when Los Angeles gave the Chicago Cardinals eight players and a high draft choice for the star runner.

Warrior '5' Draws M-A Champ as Tourney Foe

New York — The NCAA announced pairings today for regional basketball tournaments at Madison Square garden in New York and Lexington, Ky., March 10.

The New York triple-header opens with the Yankee conference champion meeting an at-large team which probably won't be selected until late in the week. In the second game, Navy will play the Atlantic Coast Conference champion, while West Virginia, champion of the Southern Conference, plays the Ivy league title-holder in the finale.

Plays at Lexington
Marquette plays the mid-American conference champion in the opener at Lexington, while Eastern Kentucky meets Louisville in the second game.

North Carolina is the favorite in the Atlantic Coast conference tournament opening Thursday.

Dartmouth and Princeton, tied for the Ivy League lead (12-1) both have one game remaining Wednesday night.

Connecticut can clinch the Yankee conference crown by defeating Rhode Island Wednesday night.

Miami of Ohio can clinch the Mid-American championship by defeating Marshall Thursday.

Portland (Ore.) university and De Paul meet in Portland

March 7 for a member-at-large berth in the Midwest regionals at Lawrence, Kan., March 13-14. The winner meets Kansas State at Lawrence.

Lombardi 'Hopeful' About 1959 Season

Profit for '58 Listed At $70,106

BY ART DALEY
Post-Crescent News Service
Green Bay — A profit of $70,106 on 1958 operations... A "very hopeful" talk from new General Manager-Coach Vince Lombardi... Election of 16 directors... And a lively discussion on changes in the by-laws!

Those were the four highlights of a 3-hour meeting of stockholders of Green Bay Packers, Inc., at the courthouse Monday night. More than 150 stockholders almost filled the courtroom.

Before the major action, Stan Wasiak, new manager of the Bluejays, spoke briefly and Lombardi introduced his new assistants—Phil Bengtson, "Red" Cochrane, Bill Austin and Norb Hecker.

John B. Torinus, Packer secretary-treasurer, read the rosy report on finances and pointed out that profit in '58 was nearly $20,000 above 1957 when the profit was $50,130.

One of the major factors was that income for the games in Green Bay was up $135,000 over 1957. This was due largely to a fourth league game here—plus an exhibition.

Whitefish Bay 2nd in WIAA Cage Poll

For the second time in four years Kimberly High school — an institution of just 346 students — is the top-ranked school in final "Big Sixteen" ratings of the Wisconsin Intercollegiate Athletic association.

Kimberly, which is just 46 students over the line which divides Wisconsin's "big schools" from its "Little Sixteen," also was the top-rated prep quintet in the final 1956 poll.

The 1958-9 Papermakers were one of three "Big Sixteen" schools to go through their regular season without a defeat, copping 18 straight games. Kimberly, coached by Gil Frank as it was in 1956, won the Mid-Eastern conference championship.

Lombardi, introduced by Packer President Dominic Olejniczak who presided, gave a straight-from-the-shoulder talk and finished off with this firecracker:

"I have been hired to do a job without interference, and I don't expect to have any. If you don't like me — well, I

Terrors' Nussbaum Selected on 1958-9 All-FRVC Quintet

Manitowoc's Hall and East's Wittig are Unanimous Picks

BY MIKE DREW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
For the third straight season, the Appleton High school basketball team is represented in the back court of the all-Fox River Valley conference team.

John Nussbaum, the conference's No. 2 scorer, missed unanimous selection to the all-FRVC squad by one point in a meeting of the league sportswriters here Monday night. He totaled 15 points.

Nussbaum is the only junior on the all conference first team. The 5-9 star is 6 inches shorter than anyone else on the big squad.

Two players—Manitowoc's Dick Hall and Green Bay East's Bob Wittig—were unanimous choices. The 6-4 Hall, who moved up from a second spot last year, was picked to one forecourt position. He is the FRVC scoring champion.

Picked at Guard
Wittig, 6-4, was selected as a guard. There was some debate as to his true position as well as to Nussbaum's and "Hub" King's, of the second team. All were picked as guards though they have played elsewhere when the occasion demanded.

Rounding out the first squad were Sheboygan North's 6-3 "Chuck" Klauk and Oshkosh's 6-3 Jim Bruins, both forecourters.

Named to the second team were King and Oshkosh's Bob Bucholtz at guards and Green Bay West's Don Hendrickson, Manitowoc's Paul Meany and "Bucky" LeClair at forecourt spots.

Hendrickson is a junior.

Meany a sophomore and all the rest are seniors.

Two years ago senior Jim Schulze and junior Jack Ullwelling were named guards on the all-FRVC first team. Last season, Ullwelling repeated as a senior.

Appleton guard Bob Roemer was accorded an honorable mention Monday night.

Hendrickson was shaded for a first team job by Bruins, by a 2-point margin. Klauk had 12 points, Bruins 11 and Hendrickson nine.

Nussbaum was picked as a

Green Bay — East High's Red Devils, breaking away from the De Pere Black Phantoms, grimly outlasting Seymour's Indians in the stretch, vaulted opening hurdles in the west WIAA sub-regional basketball tournament at Franklin Junior High school gymnasium Monday night.

A pair of free throws made the final difference in the West De Pere — Seymour match, won by the Phantoms, 49-47. GBE triumphed by a 55-40 score.

Phantoms Improve
Free throwing, in fact, kept Coach Domenic Gentile's team in contention during the first half when its radar wasn't working from the field. West DePere's record of 6-for-33 figures out to an anemic .182. It was another story at the charity line, however, where the Phants went 8-for-3 during that span.

The Phants improved upon the former in the second half, despite a dogged Seymour.

Six Teams Tied For 2nd Place In Big 10 Race

Wolves Rap Illini; Campaign Will Close Saturday

By The Associated Press

The topsy-turvy Big Ten basketball race, shattered by Michigan State's swift march to the crown, was posed with this dilemma today: six teams deadlocked for second place.

Monday night's action, including Michigan State's 83-73 drubbing of hapless Wisconsin, made it a certainty that no less than two and possibly four conference teams will share the final runner-up spot.

A 5-game slate Saturday, featuring the regionally televised Northwestern-Illinois game at Champaign closes the conference season. Then, Michigan State, now ranked No. 6 in the national Associated Press poll, will make a bid for NCAA honors.

60-Point Barrage
Michigan tossed a 60-point second half barrage Monday night at Illinois to prevail, 101-95; and Ohio State survived Ron Johnson's 30-point game to edge Minnesota, 68-66.

Thus, Michigan and OSU slipped into a second-place tie with idle Northwestern, Iowa and Purdue and losing Illinois, each with 7-6 records.

At Ann Arbor, sophomore John Tidwell, M. C. Burton and George Lee collected 85 points to offset Illinois' 54-41 halftime advantage.

Tidwell dumped in 20 of his 33 points in a second-half spurt to pace the Wolverines. Lee had 28 and Burton, 24.

Hot Shots Beat Knickerbockers In ARD Playoff

The Hot Shots nudged the Knickerbockers, 15-11, in an Appleton Recreation department Sixth Grade Boys Basketball league National division playoff game over the weekend. Tipper hit 10 points for the winners. Mumme scored seven for the losers who were ahead at the half, 8-6.

In ARD Fifth Grade Boys league action the Golden Eagles knocked off the Junior Terrors, 6-2, as Syring scored five. The Eagles posted a 16-1 win over the Bobcats. Ke-men tallied six points. The Tornadoes tripped the Buck-eyes, 6-2, as John Herb coined four of the Tornadoes' points.

Squaw Valley Cross-Country Won by Russian

Squaw Valley, Calif. —(AP)—This scene of the 1960 winter Olympic games has passed its big test.

Much remains to be done in this $18,000,000 project, but the North American skiing championships and international invitational speed skating competitions proved this area in the High Sierra will be ready.

"The North-Americans were much better than we expected," declared Arne Harshelm, Norwegian team manager, in a statement generally summing up the situation.

Russia's Pavel Kolchin captured Monday's 15 kilometer (9.3 miles) cross-country ski race in 54 minutes 10.7 seconds, beating Finland's Veikko Makulinen by four seconds.

Kentucky Five Leads Ratings

Marquette Holds 13th Spot Again In AP Cage Poll

By The Associated Press
Kentucky's Wildcats may find themselves in the unenviable position of having to defend two firsts when they begin play in the 1959 NCAA basketball tournament.

Kentucky, which finished its regular season with a 23-2 record and a tie for second place in the Southeastern conference, will begin its NCAA title defense in the Midwest regionals at Evanston, Ill., March 13.

Kentucky not only will be defending the NCAA title, but likely will go into the tournament ranked as the No. 1 college team in The Associated Press poll. This week's voting again put Kentucky on top by a margin of over 100 points over runner-up Kansas State.

Two More Games
Kansas State (22-1) has two more games to play, however, and these could lead to stronger support in the voting of sports writers and broadcasters in the AP poll. Third-place Cincinnati also has some key games left on its schedule.

Marquette remained thirteenth in this week's poll.

The top ten teams, with first place votes in parentheses, points on 10-9-8 etc. basis:

1. Kentucky (131)
  2. Kansas State (38)
  3. Cincinnati (7)
  4. Mississippi State (20)
  5. North Carolina (5)
  6. Michigan State (5)
  7. Auburn (1)
  8. West Virginia (8)
  9. Bradley (2)
  10. North Carolina State (2)
- Second ten: California (1) 130; St. Louis 118; Marquette (1) 98; Oklahoma City 79; Texas Christian 68; Utah 66; St. Mary's (Calif.) 58; St. John's (N.Y.) 53; St. Bonaventure 47; St. Joseph's (Pa.) 46.

Campy Forgets His Problems, Takes on Some of Dodgers'

Vero Beach, Fla. (AP)—If the ill could recapture health by returning to the scenes they relish most, Roy Campanella would be a well man today.

Because the greatest catcher the Dodgers ever had is back in baseball country—talking the game and watching it and giving no hint of the longing he must have to play it again.

Campanella, confined to a wheelchair as a result of his paralyzing auto accident early last year, hadn't been here a half hour when he was telling stories and trading gags with his old teammates.

"I love baseball," he said. "Just to be around the boys is wonderful. I've been looking forward to it so much."

Bearcats Cinch Title Tie as Oscar Hits 44

Belt North Texas State, 98 to 67; Notre Dame Wins

By the Associated Press

Third-ranked Cincinnati has clinched at least a tie for the Missouri Valley conference basketball crown.

Oscar Robertson scored 44 points as Cincinnati belted North Texas State Monday night, 98-64. And if the Bearcats can handle Bradley in their nationally televised game (NBC, 2 p. m. CST) Saturday they'll wrap up the title. Bradley kept pace by downing Houston, 74-60.

Tom Hawkins came up with 27 points for Notre Dame, and the Irish whipped Valparaiso, 93-65.

Eastern Kentucky, already in the NCAA Midwest regional tournament, overpowered Loyola of New Orleans, 72-63.

over Oshkosh for an 11-1 season record.

Tom Kneusel paced UWM to its second place conference finish with 35 points.

Stou scored an upset over La Crosse, tied for third place in the loop with Eau Claire, by a score of 78-77 on a basket by Bob Sorenson in the final seconds.

In other games, Stevens Point defeated Oshkosh, 85-80, and Eau Claire downed Superior, 99-93, in overtime.

Sam Antcliff led Stevens Point with 25 points. "Whitey" Kaufman topped Oshkosh with 19. Don Dibelius added 11.

Pettit Within 78 Points of NBA Scoring Record

New York (AP)—Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks needs only a 13-point average in his six remaining games to establish a National Basketball association scoring record.

The 'Bayou Bombardier' is within 78 points of George Yardley's standard of 2,001.

Pettit has amassed 1,924 points, an average of 29.2 points a game. If he maintains that average, he will eclipse the record set by the great George Mikan, who in 1950-51 scored 28.4 a contest.

Appleton 'Y' Swimmers Split 4 Meets

Appleton YMCA swimming representatives split four weekend meets.

The Appleton 'Y' junior boys team accounted for both wins—decisioning the Green Bay 'Y', 60-45, and the Oshkosh 'Y', 63-14. The Appleton senior boys lost to the Green Bay 'Y', 43-33, and the Appleton girls team lost, 114-30, to the Green Bay 'Y'.

Gary Alsbrook and Gary Eckes (in the midget division) and Larry Alsbrook and Bill Hughes (prep division) paced the Appleton junior boys.

Mike Franzke and Ken Stroker were double winners for the losing senior boys team. Franzke set a new team record in the 100-yard freestyle—with a time of :58.2—and also won the 40-yard freestyle.

Stroker set team records in the 200-yard freestyle (2:08.8)

Buc Wrestlers Beat Vikes

Lawrence Frosh Capture Fourth Straight Win, 12-0

The Lawrence college wrestling team dropped its final pre-Midwest conference meet match of the season over the weekend, to Beloit college, 28-8. The Vikings forfeited at four weights for a total of 20 points.

Lawrence winners were: Ashley Haase, on a decision over Wayne Hultberg, 6-3, at 157 pounds; and Bob Smith, on a pin, over Ron Rasmussen, in 2:54.

Viking losers were: Paul Tutuer, at 123 pounds to Angelo Munoz, Beloit, 4-0; and Carl Schwendler, at 177 pounds, to Beloit's Colin Steenson, 3-2. Schwendler was in the process of making a match-winning take-down of Steenson when the gun went off ending the match.

Lawrence forfeited at 130, 137, 147 and 167 pounds.

The Viking freshmen captured their fourth straight match, 12-0, over the Buc frosh. Lawrence winners, all on decisions, were: Dick Kauffman, 147 pounds; Bob Buchanan, 137 pounds; Jim Eastman, 167 pounds, and Eric Ruth, 177 pounds. Kauffman and Eastman were coping their fourth straight wins.

and the 120-yard individual medley (1:17.6). The latter performance broke Al Cunningham's mark of 1:19.7.

The only Appleton firsts in the girls meet were scored by Joan Ludvigsen, in the 40-yard freestyle, and Sandy Forster, in the 180-yard individual medley.

Steve Gyarmati Tumbles 630 Builders' Set

'Babe' Bayer Powers 627 in KC Circuit

Steve Gyarmati and "Hy" Wilz divided the laurels in the Appleton Builders league bowling at Hahn's Monday night. Gyarmati slugged a 630 threesome for Hoffman construction, including a 225 line. Wilz powered a 244 game for Fraser's.

"Babe" Bayer topped a 627 for first place Schreiters (48-21) in the Knights of Columbus wheel at the Elks club. One of his games was a 233. Ed Flood boomed the loftiest solo, a 239, and finished with a 562, for Fox Shell Oils.

Other honor scores: Builders: "Dude" Hahn, 555, Harry Smits, 556, Doc Bauer, 553, Arnie Reitzner, 573, Mel Wondt, 539.

Knights of Columbus: Eddie La Lond, 553, Mike Wing, 572, Ed La Fond, 553, Harris Bofay, 557.

Area Bowling Lee Ott Authors 590 Threesome

Lee Ott tumbled tenpins at a 590 velocity for first place Charlie's Bar (39-24) in the latest round of Businessmen's league bowling at Sherwood. The only other honor count was Frank Kroiss' 552.

Lorna Pekarske clouted a 520 for laurels in the latest edition of Twelve Corners Couples league bowling. The Shorthorns (304-84) hold a 6-game lead.

Green Bay's Crowe Pounces Out Win In Chicago Tourney

Chicago —Pat Moore and Bobby Clarke of the Kenosha team punched out a pair of victories Monday night in the opening session of the Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions in Chicago stadium.

Selassi Ford also scored a victory as the Wisconsin team picked up five points and was involved in a 6-way tie for first.

The other Wisconsin winner was Edison Crowe, Jr., of Green Bay as the first round of action featured action in the three lighter divisions.

mour man-for-man defense, hitting 10 of 30 shots—six of them in that big fourth quarter.

Ron Lindemann and Mike Albers, off target all night, and Jim Hockers were the heroes of that late surge. With the Phants leading by a slim 38-37, Albers popped in a rebound and Lindemann pumped home two long swishers that opened up a 7-point lead, biggest of the night.

Seymour's Orran Kahnt interrupted with a felder from the circle, but Hockers came back with one of his own from the key and added a free throw for 47-39.

Seymour's Ron John and the Phants' Ron Vande Hei then matched free throw braces for 49-41. Vande Hei's contributions enabling the Phants to survive baskets by Larry Mory and Kahnt in the closing minute.

Both teams collected 17 field goals but the Phants cashed 15 of 20 free throws while Seymour made only 13 of 23.

East Lansing, Mich. —Coach "Bud" Foster's University of Wisconsin basketball team lost to Michigan State 93-73 Monday night to compound its worst season in history.

"We were a little bit out of our class," Foster said. "Michigan State has a fine championship team and they have a big chance of going a long way in the NCAA tournament."

The loss for the Badgers pushed the season record to 3-18. It was Wisconsin's twelfth defeat in 13 Big Ten conference starts, also a new record.

The 1945-46 club had a 4-17 mark for the previous low. The Badgers lost 11 conference games in 1946, 1957 and 1958.

Green Scores 28 Michigan State was led by John Green with 28 points. High man for Wisconsin was Jim Biggs with 22.

Michigan State won the conference title by whipping defending champion Indiana, 86-82, Saturday.

MSU ran up a 13-0 lead against Wisconsin as the game opened and nearly five minutes flashed by before the Badgers got their first basket. The Spartans' lead at halftime was 45-29.

The Badgers had difficulty getting inside the MSU man-to-man defense in the first half and scored better in the second half by shooting from the outside.

Van Galder Arrives on UW Campus

Madison —Clark Van Galder, a native of Janesville and one-time player and coach at La Crosse State college, Monday joined the University of Wisconsin football coaching staff.

He came here from Fresno State Van Galder college in California where he was head football mentor.

Van Galder, who will work with the backfield, said both he and his family were delighted to be back in Wisconsin and added:

"It's sure nice to be in Big Ten coaching work."

don't believe that will happen."

The new GM was given a rousing cheer at this finish. Vince led off: "A good football team is my No. 1 job and I am keeping that in mind at all times. I cannot make any predictions on the team because I don't know what kind of team I'll have. But I know this much: you will be proud of the team because I will be proud of the team."

Lots of Good Points Just warming up, Lombardi added: "The Packers have many weak points, but they also have lots of good points and it's around these good points that we will build our nucleus. We have finished grading every player in each of the 12 league games played last year and we discovered that some players who saw little action had high marks, while some other players who we expected would get high marks had lower ratings."

"I am now holding a clinic with my coaches and we are discussing every phase, step by step, of our offense and the kinds of defenses we can use."

"Hopes? I am very hopeful we'll win some games next fall — some how and some way."

Changes were made in the team's articles of incorporation to place several new sections in the bylaws, including the designation of officers and the size of the board of directors. The 45-member board of directors will be continued but the offices of chairman of the board and second vice president will be eliminated.

A provision was also inserted stating members of the board of directors who miss three consecutive meetings will be considered as automatic resignations.

One new director was elected. He is Haydn R. Evans, general manager of WBAY and WBAY-TV in Green Bay. He succeeds the late Louis Levitas.

Directors reelected to three-year terms include Jerry Atkinson, Frank Birch, G. W. Calhoun, Max Cohodas, Charles Egan, L. H. Joannes, David B. Kuenzli, Charles P. Matys, Arthur Mongin, Carl Mraz, Maxwell D. Murphy, Albert Puelicher, John Stathas, Torinus, and Fred N. Trowbridge.

junior because of his admitted scoring strength, remarkable rebounding ability for his size and general all-round court savvy. He was forced to carry the offensive burden for Appleton. There were no other errors among the top 20 scorers.

Strong Rebounder Hall was also a strong rebounder and won the scoring title by 73 points with a 338 total. He was the only returning regular from Manty's defending conference champions, and state tournament team, and anchored the great 1956-57 ship front line which also featured Meany and LeClair.

All-Round Player The bespectacled Wittig was also a fine scorer (third in the Valley with 250 points) a valuable rebounder and an excellent floor man for his size.

Klauck was the loop's fifth best pointmaker and was a strong rebounder. Sheboygan North Coach "Bump" Jones called Klauck the best player he'd ever coached.

Chilton and Fondy Are Foes at Kiel

Sub-Regional Tourney Hosts Play Huskies Thursday Night

Kiel Sub-Regional

Thursday Night's Games:
Game No. 1—Chilton vs. Fond du Lac (7:00).
Game No. 2—Kiel vs. New Holstein (8:00).

Friday Night's Games:
Game No. 3—Lewer Game 1 vs. Lescer Game 2.
Game No. 4—Winner Game 1 vs. Winner Game 2.

Three old Eastern Wisconsin conference rivals and a "foreigner" from the bigger-school Fox River Valley conference comprise the field in the Kiel Sub-Regional Basketball tournament, opening Thursday night.

The interloper, Fond du Lac, takes on EW champion Chilton in the tourney's opening game at 7 p.m. The 8:30 contest Thursday matches two more EW first division finishers, New Holstein and Kiel. The sub-regional champion and consolation game winner play in the Sheboygan Central regional finals Saturday night.

Chilton, which came fast in the 1959-60 EW race after dropping three of its first six league starts is led by 6-8 Ken Suchan and 5-10 Al

All-Around Athletes

A pair of all-around athletes, identical twins Mike and Pete Hoffman, are starting forwards for Chilton, which has a 10-4 overall mark. The 5-11 juniors will have a size problem vs. Fondy. The other Tiger starter is 6-0 Art Hertel. Fond du Lac is paced by 6-3 "Hub" King, a fine professional baseball prospect. The Cardinals' No. 2 FRVC scorer, Darrell McArthur, dropped from the squad recently. Mike Murphy (6-4) and Darwin Rose (6-4) provide good, if not mobile, front line height.

Fond du Lac is 8-9 overall. High-scoring senior Fred Gierke has been pacing the Kiel offense all season. Junior Dave Bunge is another top offensive threat. New Holstein's top circuit pointmaker is George Casper. Kiel rapped New Holstein, 80-68, on Feb. 14. Kiel is 7-9, New Holstein 9-6 overall.

Budweiser Team Rolls 3,185 for 2nd in ABC Test

St. Louis — They failed by 58 pins to take over first place in the open team division Monday night, so today the St. Louis Budweisers will concentrate on the minor events in the American Bowling congress tournament here.

Taking over second place with a 3,185 total, the national match-game champs fell short of the 3,243 record score shot by the Detroit Piffers last week.

Wendell Meenach of Lebanon, Ind., took over fifth place in the singles with 689.

Tour of Maternity Ward Scheduled For VNA Class

Miss Inez Davis, nurse director of the Visiting Nurse association, will talk on "Birth of the Baby" at the weekly mothers' class Wednesday.

The meeting, normally held in the VNA headquarters, has been switched to the lobby of St. Elizabeth hospital at 1:30 p.m.

A tour of the maternity ward will be held after Miss Davis' talk.

County School Principals Back Higher Salaries

Principals of state graded schools should get higher salaries, members of the Outagamie Elementary Principals' association agreed in Appleton Monday.

Expansion of the grade school program throws more responsibility on principals and pay checks should reflect the added workload, association members said.

Attending the session were principals and board members from Combined Locks, Hortonville, Black Creek and Badger school, rural Appleton.

County School Supt. Henry J. Van Straten was chairman. Miss Irene Parsons was secretary.

Situation in Cuba Debated By Editors

Press Criticized For Sketchy Reports On Batista Atrocities

Columbia, Mo. — Criticism of American news coverage of the Cuban revolution and its background touched off a floor debate Monday at the opening session of the World Press Congress.

The issue was raised by Herbert Lundy, editor of the Portland Oregonian. He drew replies from Frank J. Starzel, general manager of the Associated Press; John T. O'Rourke, editor of the Washington Daily News; Jose M. Capo, international editor of Diario de la Marina of Havana, and John Day, head of the news department of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Capping a panel discussion of the general responsibilities of the press in the free world, Lundy asked delegates to answer criticism that American newspapers had not reported the full extent of the atrocities of the Batista regime before its overthrow by Fidel Castro.

Blame Censorship Starzel and O'Rourke agreed that the extent of the atrocities had not been reported, blaming chiefly the strong censorship imposed by the Batista regime.

Starzel disputed suggestions that the Associated Press had not produced news of the revolution from Cuba during the 24 years that preceded Batista's fall. He said more than 800 dispatches from Cuba were distributed in this country during that time, but they were not widely published.

"The charge that the American press tried to hide what Batista was doing is nonsense and ridiculous," Starzel said.

He added that he believed there was a hidden motive behind such accusations.

Vicious Circle "I suggest that this implication is clear from some of the sources of the accusations," he said.

O'Rourke agreed that severe censorship handicapped American reporters during the time Batista was in power, but said some reporters did get the news out.

He said the chief blame for failure of the American public to be aware of the Cuban background was "a vicious circle — that North American editors were indifferent to Cuban news because their readers were not interested in reading it and that the readers, in turn, were uninformed because the newspapers did not publish sufficient news on the subject.

"The problem is one of overcoming inertia and I think we are making some progress," O'Rourke said.

Capo said the lack of information on the revolution among the American public and its consequent astonishment at the after effects of Batista's overthrow was not only because of incorrect reporting of facts but because of failure to paint a panoramic picture giving the full background of the revolution.

Date Set for Council Talk on Edison School

Informal Joint Session, Tour Slated March 16

A new Edison school will be discussed by the city council, board of education and Edison school Parent-Teacher association at 7:30 p. m. Monday, March 16.

Mayor Mitchell said the meeting will be an informal one of the city council to which the school board and PTA have been invited.

It is intended, he said, to have all aldermen tour the building first and then hold an informal discussion with the school board and PTA.

At first, the mayor said, it was thought that a joint meeting of the board of public works, school advisory committee from the council, school board and the PTA should be called.

Await Meeting "But," he said, "when it became apparent we were getting most of the aldermen involved, we felt all of them might as well be on hand."

Edison school parents, with the aid of most of the city's PTA organizations and the school board, have been putting on a drive to get a new

Announce New Postmaster at Little Chute

Norbert Kilsdonk Assumes Duties At Village Office

Little Chute — Norbert Kilsdonk, 37, 918 Depot street, has been named postmaster for Little Chute.

Kilsdonk replaces acting postmaster Anthony Van Wymeren, who resigned last month. Van Wymeren, on a leave of absence from the Outagamie county sheriff's department, plans to rejoin the department.

Kilsdonk has been in radio and television repair work for the last 12 years. He is married and the father of seven children.

Oath of Office
The new postmaster assumed his duties Monday morning after being administered the oath of office by William McGuill, district postal inspector.

Kilsdonk is a graduate of St. John High school. He also attended the Illinois Institute of Technology and St. Norbert college at DePere. He is currently enrolled in a correspondence course with the University of Wisconsin extension department.

Kilsdonk is chancellor and general program chairman for the Father Vanden Borne council of the Knights of Columbus. He has served as treasurer for two years of COMBAT. In the Third Order of St. Norbert he has held the positions of prior, sub-prior and secretary. Kilsdonk is currently circulator of the organization.

Plans Made for 'Interview Day' For KHS Seniors

Kaukauna — Plans are underway at Kaukauna High school for the annual senior "interview day," arranged by a committee under the direction of the student council.

Over 160 seniors will be interviewed by 34 local businessmen with each student acting as though applying for a position. An application card, to be used by the interviewer, will be filled out by students prior to the March 25 event.

Interviews will start about 9:30 a.m. and continue until 11 a.m. with each student allowed about 20 minutes in which to speak to the businessman. Interviewers will have a schedule arranged for them but students will not know, in advance, who they will be assigned.

Thirty junior students will serve as ushers. Working on the planning committee are Lynn Pechman, chairman, assisted by Patricia McGrath, Lois Woelz, Richard Lemke, Athlyn Andrews, Sandra Kern, Lance Goetzman, Susan West, Patricia Haen and Judy Haen.

Auto Dealer to Lead Discussion At NADA Session

Kaukauna — James R. Gustman, treasurer of Gustman Chevrolet Sales, Inc., will be one of two discussion leaders for a 2-day modern methods of used car merchandising meeting being held today and Wednesday in Washington, D.C., by the National Automobile Dealers Association.

Used car dealers from throughout the nation gathered to discuss basis of operation.

James Gustman

tion, appraisal and reconditioning, lot and unit display and advertising and sales. The second discussion leader is Theodore W. Hufstader, Evanston, Ill. The latter will discuss used car sales on a metropolitan basis of operation while Gustman will give views on big used car operations in three smaller communities.

551 Series Share Couple's Loop Honors

Kaukauna — Bill Johnson and Jim Schell posted 551 series to lead the Sunday Married Couple's league at S and B alleys.

Team honors went to Hanson's with a 359 game and a 907 series. Schell's dropped two games but held the league lead with a 281-104 record while Rogers' won three to pull to within one game of the leaders. Hooymann's is third, three games off the pace.

Trinity Women Set Thursday Meeting Date

Kaukauna — The Women's Aid society of Trinity Lutheran church has scheduled the March meeting for 2 p.m. Thursday rather than the normal Wednesday gatherings. Hostesses for the day will be Mrs. Otto Hass, Mrs. Fred Henslin, Mrs. Winifred Hess, Mrs. Harold Hildebrandt and Mrs. Wayne Hillegas.

Kimberly Board Opens Bids on Village Work

Property Owners Object to Site for Comfort Station

Kimberly — Bids on street reconstruction work and a comfort station for Roosevelt park were opened at the village board meeting Monday night.

After bids were read they were turned over to the engineer for tabulation. A special meeting was set for March 23 when the board will let the contracts.

Before bids on the street work were opened the board rejected two offers. One was from the Verbruggen Construction company of Little Chute. The board rejected the bid because Verbruggen failed to file a financial statement five days prior to the opening of the bids as required. The bid of Kuehl and Sommers of Shiocton also was rejected when the board ruled the bidder was not financially qualified to do the work.

Receive 4 Bids
Four bids were received for the general contract on the comfort station and one on the plumbing work.

Several property owners along Third street voiced disapproval of the proposed site for the comfort station. The residents contended the building would be constructed too close to the road and homes. Suggested locations offered by the property owners were more toward Washington street or the east side of the park. Board members pointed out that this might create a problem as far as a sewer connection was concerned. However, it was agreed that the board would go to the park and look the area over a second time before deciding on the site.

Petition For Signals
A petition to the Public Service commission for the installation of signals at the County Trunk N Chicago and North Western Railway crossing was approved by the board. President Alvin Fulcer

Election Workers to Receive Instructions At Wednesday School

Kaukauna — The city clerk, Karl E. Marzahl, will conduct a school for election workers at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday in the office of the swimming pool. The clerk will explain operation of voting machines and other procedures in regard to the judicial primary, March 10. Voting stations for the primary will be open from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. with First and Second ward voters to cast ballots at Park school, Third and Fourth ward voters at Nicolet school and Fifth ward voters at the swimming pool office.

Legion to Hold Birthday Party

State Commander To Be Speaker For 40th Anniversary

Kaukauna — Douglas Davison, state commander of the American Legion, will speak at the fortieth birthday party of the Legion to be observed by Post 41 and its auxiliary March 15 at the VFW hall.

The meeting will open with a 6 p.m. covered dish supper for legionnaires, auxiliary members, wives, husbands and guests. Olin Dryer will serve as master of ceremonies.

Other special guests for the affair include Mrs. Stanley Staidl, state president of the American Legion auxiliary; Lloyd Berken, state vice commander; Oliver Kruse and Lance Goetzman, high school representatives to Badger Boys' state; Patricia McGrath, representative to Badger Girls' state; Dwight Bastian, Ninth district legion oratorical contest winner the last two years, and Aage Fredenslund, Danish foreign exchange students attending Kaukauna High school.

All past commanders of Post 41 and past presidents of its auxiliary are to be given special recognition during the birthday program. Dancing and card playing will round out the evening's activities.

Baby Sitting Awards Earned By 83 Students

Kaukauna — Eighty-three seventh grade youngsters completed the four baby sitting sessions sponsored by the Kaukauna Homemakers clubs thereby earning certificates and having their names placed on file at the Kaukauna Vocational school.

The record file is for the convenience of people in the community looking for qualified sitters. Students attending learned about care of youngsters, how to keep them quiet prior to a 7:45 p.m. Thursday meeting of the American Legion auxiliary in the Golden Age clubrooms of the municipal building.

Miss Blanche Gerend, legislative committee chairman, has charge of the program and will head the serving committee assisted by Mrs. Robert Specht and Mrs. Joseph Promer.

The Junior auxiliary will meet at 6:30 p.m. to elect a poppy princess and make gifts to be presented veterans in hospitals on Easter.

Locks Altar Society Meets Wednesday

Combined Locks — Members of the Altar society of St. Paul's church will meet at the grade school Wednesday night. The session will follow Lenten devotions at the parish church.

Krueger Wins 2nd Round of City Basketball Loop Play

Kaukauna — Krueger furnished and widened the gap in each half frame to win going away. The winners led 35-8 at the league Sunday rolling to a 79-46 win over Coppes' Tavern. The leaders also took first round honors thus no play-off contests will be held.

Krueger has a record of 14 wins and no losses overall, winning seven games each half. Arnold's bar won second place with a 6-1 record after downing Gustman 76 to 28. Shomrock took third with a 5-2 record by downing Sully's bar 65-60. Sully's finished fourth with four wins and three losses. Farrell-Miller downed Thilco 57-46 as the teams finished with 2-5 records. Gustman ended play with no wins in seven starts.

Title Game
The league champs jumped off to an 18-10 first period lead and were never headed as they moved to a 39-14 half-time advantage and then increased the lead to 62-32 at the three-quarter mark. Jim Rausch led the winners with 16 free throwing in the last 36 points while Dan Schommer hit 18 for the losers. Arnold's took a 22-2 first quarter lead over Gustman losers.

Speeder Fined in Justice Court

Kaukauna — William VanDerLoop, 26, 801 1/2 Desnoyer street, pleaded guilty of speeding when arraigned before Oscar T. Jahns, justice of the peace, and was fined $25.

Jahns remitted $10 of the fine. VanDerLoop was arrested for traveling 55 miles per hour on Taylor street and will have six points charged against his record toward revocation of his driver's license for exceeding the speed limit by more than 20 miles per hour. Taylor street is a 25-mile an hour zone in the city.

Board to Meet

Eagles Name Winners Of Skat Tournament

Kaukauna — The February skat tournament held at the Eagles club concluded Sunday with Elmer Propson, Hilbert, taking first place with 21 good hands. Richard Vanderloop of Hollandtown finished second with 592 points. John Broucek, Kaukauna, won third with heart solo against four. William Becker, Appleton, had 20 H. Mrs. Elmer Propson, Hilbert, had 531 points. Ray Propson, Hilbert, had 96 high single hand and Carl Grassel, Appleton, had 17 high hands.

First New Home Permit Issued

Kimberly — The first new home permit of the year has been issued, according to building inspector Eugene Hietpas.

Red Cross Drive Work Underway

Kimberly — Work in the Red Cross fund drive for the Kimberly district opened Monday, according to Mrs. Paul Lochschmidt, chairman. In Kimberly, Mrs. Melvin Bunnow, 315 S. Ann street, is heading the campaign. Daniel Burns is handling the business district in the village. Mrs. James Schroeder and Mrs. John Schumacher are heading the drive at Combined Locks. Clarence Wundrow is in charge of the town of Buchanan.

The permit went to Peter Bons for a $14,000 home at 431 Joseph street. One other permit has been issued this year, that for a $1,500 addition to a home.

$630,614 Paid In Taxes During 1st Two Months

Treasurer Reports
Over 75 Per Cent of Total Already Raised

Kaukauna — A rush to pay taxes prior to March 1 deadline was noted by Miss Ruth Wolf, city treasurer, with final figures showing $630,614.94 in real and personal property taxes paid in the first two months.

Records indicate the treasurer collected $688,187.01 in the same period in 1958. Total to be raised by taxation this year is $943,082.93, thus a little more than 75 per cent has been collected while the remaining $212,467.99 will be collected by the county treasurer from the 50-50 plan or be classified delinquent.

A total of 3,203 persons paid real estate taxes in 1959 while 241 paid personal property taxes, according to the treasurer. Real estate taxes collected in February amounted to $155,382.86 compared to $140,540.24 collected in the same period in 1958 while personal property taxes collected last month amounted to $103,106.13 compared to $115,851.20 in the same time in 1958.

Police Get Thanks
Miss Wolf in reporting the tax payments made special mention of gratitude to the police department for assisting her in many trips to the bank and serving as guards in the tax collection office.

Police were always available to make special trips to the banks during the heavy collection periods and also made it possible for the treasurer's office to remain open at scheduled hours, according to Miss Wolf's report.

Crews Repair Cable Break

International Incident Caused By Line Failure

New York—The transatlantic telephone system of the American Telephone and Telegraph company was back in normal operation Monday, after the repair of a cable break that created an international incident.

The company announced completion of the repair Sunday.

The cable system links the telephone networks of the United States and Canada with those of Britain and eight European countries.

The cable was broken Feb. 21. A 3-man boarding party from the United States navy radar picket ship Roy O. Hale searched a Soviet trawler, Novorossisk, for 70 minutes Thursday in an effort to find if the ship had cut the cable.

Lt. Donald Sheely, who headed the boarding party, said he found no firm evidence of any intention to cut the cable, and believed the most probable explanation is that the trawler cut it accidentally.

The Soviet Union called the boarding "premeditated provocation."

John A. Bowman, an ATT official, said that "from the looks of the cable it appears that it became fouled in trawling gear, was hauled aboard a trawler and cut to free the gear."

Bowman estimated it cost at least a quarter of a million dollars to repair the break.

Cable ships in the area of four Western Union cables broken last week were hampered by rough weather, but were expected to complete their work today.

Kiwanians Hear Financial Talk

Little Chute — Richard Adams of Bonded Collectors, Inc., spoke at the meeting of the Kiwanis club Monday night on investments, loans and credit.

Plans were discussed for the showing of the film "Alaska," at the St. John grade school auditorium April 1, 2 and 3. The Key club and Kiwanis will sponsor the film with proceeds to be used for civic welfare programs.

Gordon Hamman will be program chairman for next week's meeting.

Reckless Spending Alleged at Air Base

San Francisco — The San Francisco Chronicle said Monday that civilian employees at Vandenberg Air Force base, Calif., claimed the air force has been spending money recklessly.

Quoting "a number of authoritative civilians," the newspaper said millions of dollars have been spent recklessly on "crash" programs to set up ballistic missile launching sites.

The sources were not named in the article.

The article, citing what it called "powerful lobbying" by building contractors, said the money could have been saved through a normal building program.

The paper said expensive launching systems rushed to completion months ago now stand idle because the missiles for which they were built

Romance Ends In Shooting, Couple Dead

New York—A—Ira Schwartz met Sandra Chick three years ago at a dance.

A year later they became engaged. He was 30 then. She was 17. They didn't marry because both had school to finish, and they felt they were too young.

Ira attended Brooklyn college at night and worked days as a buyer for a clothing firm.

Sandra, a pretty honey blonde, also attended Brooklyn college at night and worked days in a law office.

Used Reprowed Car
Sandra's father, Irving, the prosperous owner of a gas station at Rockaway beach, Manhasset, had a car so he could travel between his home in Brooklyn and the Chick's home in Queens more easily.

Ira used it to visit at the Chick home three or four times a week. "He was the happiest guy I knew," a schoolmate said.

Then Sandra met a lawyer. About a week ago she returned the 3-carat engagement ring for which Ira had saved.

She told him it was all off. Sunday he asked her to go for a drive with him and reconsider. They parked the car in a beach section of Queens, about a block from the Atlantic ocean.

No one knows what they said, because both of them are dead.

Police said he shot her twice with a .22 caliber rifle, once in the abdomen and once in the head. Then he turned the gun on himself and fired twice more. Both were dead when police arrived.

16-Year-Olds' Cars In Head-on Collision

Weyauwega — Cars driven by Claude Jansen, route 1, Weyauwega, and James Wohl-rabe, route 2, Fremont, both 16, collided head-on in the 100 block of E. Wisconsin street Sunday afternoon. Police Chief Kenneth Thompson estimated the damage at $255.

Two Other Sites Suggested for New Junior High

Washington Park Proposed to School Board as Possibility

Neenah — Use of two other sites for the new junior high school, one of them Washington park, has been proposed to the board of education, it was brought out at Monday's board meeting.

The board is looking into the practicability and adaptability of these as well as other sites. The other sites were suggested at a meeting last week with city officials.

Review Program

Board members also authorized the preparing of specifications and advertising for bids for acoustical treatment of the new high school gymnasium. It is hoped to approach the normal sound level of an auditorium. The board would like this work completed by commencement.

Considerable time was

Auto Downs Utility Pole

Electric Service Interrupted to 5 Menasha Homes

Menasha — Electrical service to five homes was disrupted Monday night when a car driven by James W. Taggart, 20, 1134 Main street, Menasha, knocked down a utility pole in front of 738 Third street.

Police Chief Peter Clark said Taggart would appear Wednesday morning in justice court to face charges to be filed as a result of the wreck.

Police reported auto parts left at the base of the pole match those missing from the damaged front end of the Taggart auto, found shortly after the 11:48 p.m. accident about three blocks from the scene.

The driver and three passengers were not injured.

Thomas Kosloski, an off-duty Menasha policeman, said the car rounded a corner onto Third street at a high rate of speed and almost struck the car in which he was riding, driven by John Weber, 857 Fifth street, as well as several parked cars.

Electric service in the area was restored about an hour after the pole was downed, said Thomas McGuire, water and light commission superintendent.

Ex-Menasha Woman Dies at Kenosha

Menasha — Mrs. Barbara H. Schaefer, 80, the former Barbara Seithamer of Menasha, died about 3 p.m. Monday after a long illness at Kenosha. She was born Aug. 18, 1878 at Pine Grove, Wis., and was married Aug. 8, 1898 to Jack Schaefer of Appleton. He died in 1947. They had lived in Kenosha many years.

Funeral services will be held at Kenosha Wednesday morning.

Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Robert Gibson of Conoca Park, Calif.; a son, Harold M. Schaefer, also of Conoca Park; a sister, Mrs. Irene Simon of Kenosha; 9 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Tuberculosis Test Set for Taft School

Neenah — The tuberculin skin test which had been scheduled for Taft school Feb. 23 but was cancelled because of the heavy snowfall, will be held at 9 a.m. Tuesday, March 10, Mrs. Thelma Davis, Neenah public health nurse, reported today.

Those Piles of Snow are disappearing under the warm sun but that very fact is creating another problem for motorists and pedestrians alike. Many storm drains are covered and puddles of water have no place to go. Post-Crescent Photographer Robert Vander Walker, using a telephoto lens, caught the way several people tried to meet the problem on E. Wisconsin avenue. A flanking movement was tried by the woman at the left. An athletic gentleman vaulted

Neenah School Board Hires Nine Teachers

Need 10 More for Next Year, Mennes Reports at Meeting

Neenah — Board of education members Monday approved contracts for nine new teachers in the elementary and junior high level. Supt. of Schools Harold B. Mennes indicated another 10 still had to be hired, of which three will be additions to the high school faculty and two will be replacements for present high school teachers.

One of the new teachers, Ervin Lange, Oshkosh, already has begun work as the Roosevelt school sixth grade teacher to succeed the late Gordon Alberts. Lange is a recent graduate of Oshkosh State college and has taught in the Oaklawn and Lakeside schools in Winnebago county.

Teaching next fall in the seventh and eighth grades will be Mrs. Mary Williamson, Appleton, who received her degree from Mount Mary college in 1946 and has done special work at Oshkosh State college. She has taught at Algoma.

Four at Waukesha

Four of the teachers hired now are in the Waukesha school system. Miss Betty Woehlert, a 1937 graduate of Stevens Point State college, is a native of Wausau and will teach kindergarten. She has been at Waukesha two years.

The other three are primary level teachers and are graduates of Oshkosh State college in either 1957 or 1958. They are Sally Ann Stauffer, Oshkosh, Mae Elizabeth Raiser, Bear Creek, and Mary Lou Reese, Appleton. Miss Reese has been at Waukesha one year and the others two years.

Miss Beulah B. Rock, Dale, also was hired as a primary teacher. She taught 12 years in Outagamie county rural schools, three years in the Woodlawn state graded school and the last two years at Beaver Dam. She will complete work for her bachelor's degree in summer school.

The ninth teacher hired is Miss Charlotte Forth who taught here for two years and is teaching this year in Jap. Winneconne until his retirement several years ago.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church with the Rev. Harvey Kahrs, pastor, in charge. Burial will be in Winneconne cemetery. Friends may call at the Mueller Funeral home Wednesday afternoon and evening and to 10 a.m. Thursday and at the church after 11 a.m., Thursday.

Survivors are the widower, a brother, Franz Trittin of Winneconne; and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson, town of Winneconne.

Allan Michie Selected for Phi Beta Kappa

Menasha — Allan A. Michie, a 1932 graduate of Menasha high school, is one of six men elected to Phi Beta Kappa, national honor fraternity, at Ripon college.

Graduated from Ripon cum laude in 1936, Michie now is economic advisor to the Republic of Ghana. He has been an editor, writer and foreign correspondent and covered the globe during his writing career. He formerly was European deputy director of Radio Free Europe and has written at least 10 books.

A formal initiation will be held April 4 at the college.

25 Petitioners Oppose Street Layout Change

Neenah Council to Hear Arguments on Plans Commission Proposal Wednesday

Neenah — A petition with about 25 signers opposing the proposed change in the proposed street layout south of Cecil street and between Maple and Congress streets has been filed with city officials.

A hearing on the change is set for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday before the city council.

Arthur J. Kessler, owner of the property involved, said the proposed change is one of three proposed by the plans commission to him for his selection.

The area contains 103 lots, not 140 as reported originally. Sizes of these lots are 70, 74, 84, 85 and 100 feet in width, depending upon in which block they are located. The depths are 115 and 120 feet for the most part with five of them being 145 feet deep. Streets of 60 foot width are plotted.

Second Hearing

Also before the council for hearing Wednesday night will be the layout of streets east of Cecil street which includes property both in the city and in the town of Neenah. One proposed layout of these streets came up for a hearing in January but was referred back to the plans commission after some changes were suggested and opposition expressed by some of the property owners affected.

Fined for Fishing Below Neenah Dam

Oshkosh — Wilfred W. Hietpas, 24, of 315 Brothers street, Kaukauna, and Austin Hietpas, 43, Lincoln avenue, Little Chute, pleaded guilty to a charge of fishing within 200 feet downstream of the Neenah dam and both were fined $10 and costs by Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger this morning.

Classes to Begin Sept. 10; 37 Weeks Instruction Planned

Neenah — The 1959-60 school year calendar was approved by the board of education Monday. An in-service institute for teachers has been set for the Tuesday and Wednesday after Labor day, Sept. 8 and 9.

The opening day of school for pupils will be Sept. 10 and 37 weeks of classes, representing 175 days, will be offered. The first semester will be 19 weeks and the second 18 weeks.

The first grading period will end Nov. 13, the second grading period Jan. 29, the third grading period April 1 and school will end June 10.

Vacations will be Nov. 5 to 7 for the Wisconsin Education association convention, Nov. 26 and 27 for Thanksgiving, Dec. 21 through Jan. 1 for Christmas, April 11 to 19 for spring vacation and May 30 for Memorial day.

Baccalaureate will be June 5, 1960, and commencement on June 8 next year.

Appleton Pastor To be Allenville Vespers Speaker

Allenville — The Rev. Harold Humbert of the First Baptist church of Appleton will be guest speaker at the vespers service at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Community Baptist church here.

Members are participating in the Evangelism week rally at 8 p.m. tonight at the Berlin Baptist church at which the Rev. Wilford Borne of Chicago will be the speaker.

Missionary circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Herbert Steller at 8 p.m. Thursday. Officers will be elected and the love gift offering received.

Neenah Teacher Pay Schedule Hiked $100

Beginning Salary Set at $4,100; Annual Increments Raised to $150

Neenah — A $100 increase in the starting rate for teachers with an increase of $15 in the annual increment has been set by the board of education for the school year beginning in September, it was reported at Monday night's board meeting.

The new base pay for a teacher with four years of college training and no experience will be $4,100. All steps in the salary schedule for Neenah public schools will be increased accordingly by $100.

The annual increment was raised from $135 to $150 with a maximum of 16 years for such increments. This increase will apply for each year of teaching experience.

Raises Not Automatic

These increments are not automatic, the board pointed out, but are granted for satisfactory work. The board mentioned that it was reserving the right to deny any increments if it felt necessary.

The board also discussed a possible automatic fire alarm system for all school properties. Comm. Burt Spafford was delegated to undertake research on such a plan and to submit a report at the April 6 meeting.

Charged With Failure To Yield Right of Way

Oshkosh — Richard A. Lemme, 19, Oshkosh, was charged with failure to yield the right of way after his car was involved in a collision with Charles E. Russell, 35, of 1307 S. Ritger street, Appleton, in the 600 block of North Main street here at 12:25 p.m. Monday.

Oshkosh police said the Lemme car skidded almost 32 feet on dry pavement before striking the left side of Russell's car. Both vehicles received minor damage.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THIS PICTURE?

This man is looking for a diamond "bargain"...but shopping for "price" alone isn't the way to find it. For if you don't know diamonds, you have no way of telling if you are getting a true value or just an inferior diamond. You'll make a wiser diamond purchase if you first choose a jeweler with a record of reliability and proven experience. Then, select the diamond of your choice for whatever sum you have to spend.

Zephyrs One of Five Tourney Repeaters

Open 'State' Play Thursday Night Against FVCC Foe

Menasha — St. Mary is one of five Catholic high school basketball teams to return to the state tournament for the second year and one of only three to make the grade annually since the regional system was inaugurated in 1957.

St. Mary is scheduled to launch play at 9 p.m. Thursday against Marinette Catholic Central at the Green Bay Arena. Semi-finals are scheduled Friday night with the finals Saturday evening.

In addition to the Zephyrs, last year's repeaters are Racine St. Catherine, the defending champion, Wisconsin Rapids Assumption, Madison Edgewood and Superior Cathedral. New teams are La Crosse Aquinas, Milwaukee Cathedral and Marinette.

Former Titlists
The Zephyrs are one of five former titlists in the field. They won crowns in 1934, 1950, 1953 and 1955 and since 1953 have come home with at least one trophy. They took consolation honors last March.

Marinette Catholic — then Lourdes — copped in 1932 and Edgewood and Superior Cathedral, Aquinas won in 1941, 1944, 1946, 1949 and 1950. Edgewood was victorious in 1942, 1943 and 1945 and St. Catherine won last year.

Zephyr Graders Cop Consolation At Two Rivers

Menasha — St. Mary Grade school took consolation honors in the Lakeshore Basketball tournament at Two Rivers Sunday afternoon by tripping Holy Redeemer of the host city 25-14.

Cites Need for Education To Preserve Our Resources

Menasha — Conservation is a big business in Wisconsin and to preserve it we will have to start educating the generation following us. Herb Johnson of the Oshkosh conservation office told the Menasha Kiwanis club at the Menasha hotel Monday night.

Johnson declared that we usually think of conservation trees while formerly the per in terms of hunting and fishing but actually they constitute only a small part.

Smaller area, population increasing, shorter working hours destroyed by cattle, the and more free time all add a strain on our natural resources, he said.

Project Thinking

He went on to add that 80 per cent of the men in our penal institutions never had a chance to hunt or fish or even own a dog.

"We've got to project our good farmland in the Mississippi beyond the game fish we are going to hunt and the fish we are going to catch," the speaker asserted.

He referred to the "good old days", which he said real conservation problem, weren't so good because many of the Indians starved to death. He told that the state formerly supported about 11,000 Indians and today they wouldn't be able to eat all of the fish we take out of Lake Winnebago in 12 months.

As for trees, now 50 per cent of the state is covered by forest while formerly the percentage was much higher. Although millions are planted each spring, we still aren't keeping up with the amount destroyed by cattle, the speaker said. If conditions remain the same, in the next 20 years we won't increase our crop by 1 per cent.

Soil Erosion
Soil erosion was another conservation topic touched on by the speaker, who said that every 24 hours, 40 acres of the state is lost.

About 23 years ago, we started obtaining technical men in the department who took a different approach to old days", which he said real conservation problem, weren't so good because many of the Indians starved

He said Wisconsin was one of the leaders in this department and we've made great strides in the last 20 years.

The conservation man stressed that too many of the recommendations, however, are ignored. He told that when a doctor or dentist makes a diagnosis their judgment isn't questioned but when a conservation man makes a recommendation after several years of studying a problem, he is often crucified.

Arrangements With Driftwood Demonstrated for Garden Club

Neenah — Driftwood as a base for arrangements — holding a Spanish moss nest of pastel colored Easter eggs, background for a pot of shamrock, cabbage and parsley in a St. Patrick day theme, nesting a varied assortment of fruit, in a centerpiece of dried glasses and a cluster of chestnuts or harmonizing with colorful blooms — was demonstrated for YWCA House and Garden club members Monday afternoon.

Herman Sonn, who teaches flower arranging at the Fond du Lac Vocational school, listed the principals of arrangements as containers, color, harmony, proportion, balance, rhythm and unity. "Pieces of driftwood become part of the container," he said. Consider color and harmony between the container and the blooms, he advised.

Sonn pointed out containers vary in texture as do blooms. The bloom should be the same texture as the container. In most instances, he said, glass represents a fine texture, pottery, medium texture, bean pots and wood represent heavy texture, he illustrated. Well-tarnished metal would be a heavy texture, while highly polished metal might be a medium texture, he said. Roses and lilies of the valley are examples of fine textured blooms, while glads and delphinium are medium textured. Sun flowers and other large blooms are heavy textured flowers, he explained.

Rhythm
"Proportion and balance should be in good harmony with the container and blooms we are using," he said. Balance can be gained by placement. He described rhythm in an arrangement as a line giving motion and making the composition more interesting.

"We don't need a great amount of bloom in order to make arrangements," Sonn pointed out, explaining the amateur arranger has a tendency to over-crowd.

Wash Driftwood
"To me, driftwood is pieces of wood that have been worked on by the wind, sun rain and water," he defined. Driftwood, usually found in coves or along waterfronts, is often water soaked and may take as long as six months before it is ready to be worked on, he said.

When you find a good piece of driftwood, put it in a tub and wash with soap and water, he suggested. Add a little salt to the water to kill any insects hiding in the wood. If the driftwood is washed thoroughly, you won't have trouble when it dries and you are going over it with a fine steel wool to get the effect you desire, he advised.

Sonn, who is a member of the Oakfield Garden club of Fond du Lac, told club members he made clusters of chestnuts for arrangements by using pipe cleaners in little holes drilled into the chestnuts and gluing them together.

"When I first took up floral arranging, you had to use foliage of the same bloom. Today we use combinations," he said. Dried grasses and evergreen also is widely used.

Sonn pointed to a number of centerpieces calling them "tricks of the trade." He uses floral clay to secure holders or driftwood pieces to a board. "Be sure that it is water proof," he warned since a modeling clay type will not hold up in water.

If you cut the stem of a bloom too short for an arrangement place the stem inside a larger stem, he suggested. One stem will pass water up to the other.

Another arranger's tip listed by the speaker was using a "grap" to hold a single bud, by punching a hole in the grape. "The juice that is in the grape will keep your bloom fresh."

Airiness

In a centerpiece, the darker blooms give weight to the composition, while the light blooms give airiness, he said. The best time to pick flowers is at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, said the speaker. At that time the stems hold about as much water as they can absorb. Take a deep container filled with water to the garden and place the stems, cut on a slant, into the vessel and leave overnight in a cool place, he advised. "Then make your arrangement in the morning."

In determining the height of an arrangement, Sonn said, "Make the arrangement about one and one-half times the height of a tall container and one and one-half times the width of a low flat container." He advised candles be about one-fourth higher than an arrangement for a dining table. The centerpiece should be low enough so people sitting opposite can easily converse.

Home Agent to Be Speaker for Woman's Club

Neenah — Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent, will discuss foods and the care of new fabrics at 2 p.m. Wednesday for YWCA Women's club at the Y.

French Priest Found Dead in Wood; Shot With Four Bullets

Amiens, France — A Roman Catholic priest was found dead in a wood near Amiens Sunday with four bullets in the form of a cross.
The body of Abbe Robert Ochu was found by a hunter. One bullet had pierced his head, breaking his spectacles. Another was in the stomach. The other two had entered either side of the chest.
Church circles said the abbe had not been seen for several days. Investigating authorities refused to give out any information in accordance with the new French legal code which calls for complete pretrial secrecy.

Beavers Buddies, Not Thrown Out

Wanaque, N. J. — Beavers, whose dam building sometimes is a nuisance, have done a good turn for the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission.
A band of them walled off a 3-acre marsh, thus reducing the chances silt might wash into Wanaque reservoir during periods of high run-off.

Flowering Shrub, Tree Twig Can be Made to Bloom Early

Did you know you can fool twigs of a flowering shrub or tree into thinking it is spring long before it really is? Here's how to do it:
After getting permission from mother or dad, cut a few twigs off any flowering shrub or tree you have in your yard — forsythia, flowering crab, peach, apricot, flowering quince, redbud, cherry or any other. Select twigs that have a lot of fat healthy buds. Each twig should be 14 or 16 inches long. Make a slanting cut. Take the twigs into your home and put them in a vase of fresh water. Place the vase in a dark, warm basement room for a few days to let the twigs become accustomed to the change from out-and you will see a bit of door living to indoor cond-bright green of leaves or tle. Then place the bowl in yellow, pink or white of blossoms, depending on whether twigs will get the feeling that a bud is a leaf bud or a blossom bud.
Keep fresh water in the vase. After a week or two of flowers and leaves develop sunshine you will see buds well ahead of the normal begin to swell. Finally their time, hard covering will burst open

News & Views of Twin City Business

Gibson Co., Inc., 132 Main Street, Menasha, is displaying the 1959 line of the stunning new Buicks. There are 17 new models. Sleek and low describes Buick's styling for 1959. The model shown is the luxurious two-door Electra hardtop which measures less than 55 inches in height yet retains approximately the same headroom as last year's Buick. The "delta-wing" styling of the rear fenders that flare out to a point, and twin headlights that are set on an angle give the new Buick a look that is light & jaunty. Compound windshields that curve back into the roof and eliminate wind noise are a feature on all 1959 Buicks. The Electra is powered by a 401-cubic inch V-8 engine with 10.5-to-1 compression ratio. Twin turbine Dynaflow and power steering are standard on all models in the Electra series. Area people are invited to stop in this week and see the new Buick at the Gibson showrooms, 132 Main, Menasha. Gibson's Menasha used car lot is located at 905 Racine street.

Menasha Print Shop Equipped to Handle All Printing Jobs

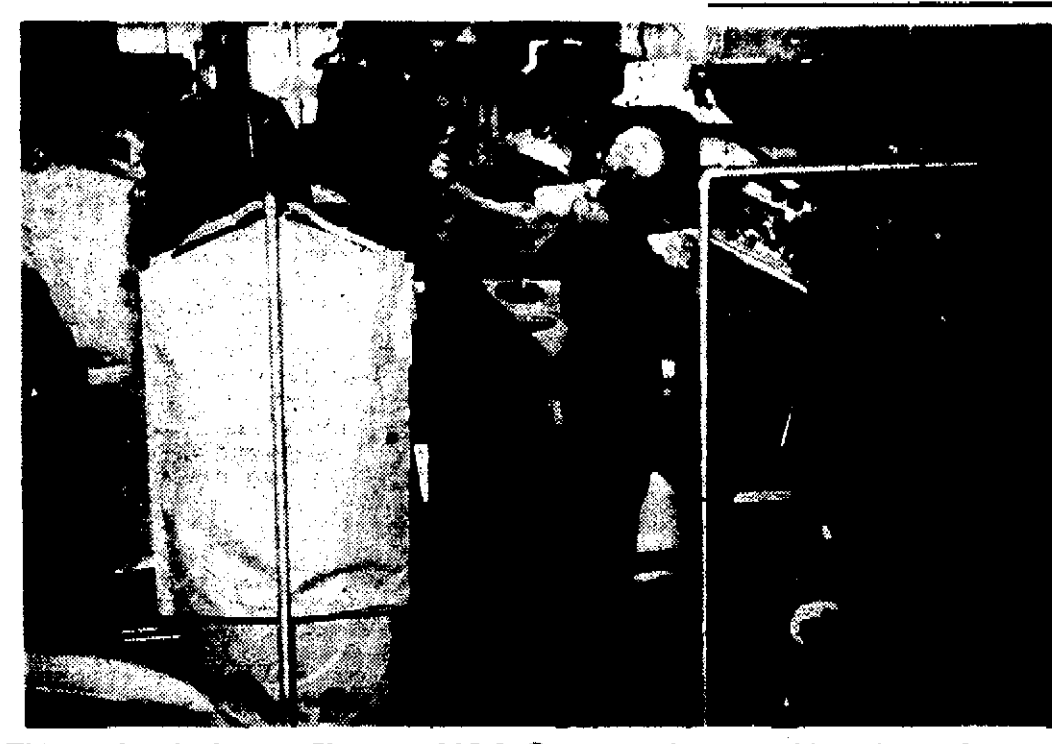

Menasha — One of the oldest established printing firms in the Fox River Valley is the Menasha Print Shop, 321 Konemac street, owned and operated by Elton C. Beattie. He has had over 25 years of printing experience and the firm has been in business for over 65 years.

The plant is a completely modern shop equipped to handle any type of individual, commercial or industrial printing. The newest in the line of presses is the new Heidelberg Press, a German-made press enabling the firm to do a far superior printing job.

A specialty of Menasha Print Shop is steel die engraving. Engraved stationery, envelopes, wedding invitations and announcements can be purchased at a nominal cost. For example, engraved wedding invitations are priced as low as $12.45 per hundred and $9 for each additional hundred.

Pamphlets, advertising programs, club yearbooks, tags, tickets, business cards, tags, just a few of many printing jobs done on a choice of stock, plain or colored. The firm is also equipped to do perforating, drilling, round cornering and color printing.

The only full time letterpress printing shop in Menasha, the shop invites calls for free printing estimates. The phone number is Parkway 2-6280 and free pickup and delivery service is available, if desired.

This week only, Larson Cleaners, 113 S. Commercial street, Neenah, is featuring "two for the price of one" on dry cleaning of dresses, skirts, pants, suits, sweaters and ties, cash and carry. Customers are guaranteed quality workmanship. Larson Cleaners feature the Super C method of dry cleaning and has been owned and operated by Charles G. (Charlie) Larson for 22 years. Shown above is Larson and his wife, Hazel, at work in the recently remodeled shop. Furniture and rugs are also expertly cleaned here. A rug cleaning machine is available on a rental basis, if desired. Slipcovers, blankets, drapes, curtains and lace tablecloths are cleaned the Super C way. It is a completely different "dry" method of cleaning that restores newly-tailored life to garments and is ideal for synthetic fibres too. A delivery service is maintained and area people may call PA 2-4161 for pick-up and delivery. All work is done at the Larson plant. Dyeing of clothing and reweaving of cigarette burns or tears are two extra services offered at this reliable Neenah firm.

Madison — Two upsets featured last week's play in the University of Wisconsin Extension Division basketball conference.

Menasha (3-11) turned back Kenosha (6-8) 68-67 in an overtime and Green Bay (5-8) knocked Sheboygan out of the race with a 52-50 win. The defending champs finished with 10-4. Earlier in the week Sheboygan downed Marinette 59-54.

Only two games remain on the schedule and both involve the co-leaders. Wausau enters Green Bay and Racine is at Marinette next Saturday. Both Wausau and Racine have 11-2 records.

Richard Jossart of Kenosha won the scoring championship with 350 points in 14 games. He had 43 more than DuWayne Prinsen of Sheboygan. Gordon Floyd of Racine is third with 277 points and would have to hit 30 or more in his final game to tie or exceed Prinsen.

Menasha failed to place a scorer among the top 11. Manitowoc, which didn't win a game has two, Leon Gospoderek and Andre Coisman, both former Two Rivers High school cagers.

The scoring:

	G	FG	FT	TP
Jossart, Kenosha	14	135	80	350
Prinsen, Sheb	14	121	65	307
Floyd, Racine	13	114	49	277
Gospoderek, Manit.	14	102	35	289
Bayer, Racine	13	84	35	203
Cosman, Manitowoc	14	80	42	202

2 Motorists Deny Traffic Violations

Menasha Justice Suspends License Of Youth for Month

Neenah — Two persons pleaded innocent of traffic violations and two others forfeited fines to Twin City police departments Saturday and Monday.

Donald F. Nussbaum, 23, 229 Bond street, Monday pleaded innocent of deviating from the line of traffic and trial was set by Police Justice Arthur J. Ales of Menasha for 9:30 a.m. on March 13. He was arrested after an accident at 3:55 p.m. Friday in front of 512 Third street.

Justice Ales also Monday suspended for one month the driver's license of Gerald Burke, 1039 W. Fifth street, Appleton, after the youth pleaded guilty of driving an unregistered vehicle, not having a driver's license and not having a muffler on the car. He was arrested on Broad street at 10:10 p.m. Saturday. Arnold C. Berger, 237 Murray avenue, Appleton, forfeited $9 for an arterial violation at Third and DePere streets in Menasha. He was arrested at 8:34 a.m. Friday.

Trial Set
Richard A. Fulcer, 17, 128 Abbey avenue, pleaded innocent Saturday of failure to yield the right of way and trial was set by Police Justice E. P. Arpin of Neenah for 10 a.m. on March 14. He was arrested after an accident at 12:30 p.m. Friday.

A charge of illegal passing against Kenneth R. Schwab, 21, route 1, Menasha, was dismissed by Justice Arpin. Schwab was arrested by Neenah police after an accident Feb. 11. He pleaded innocent earlier.

3 Appleton Students Of UW Menasha Center Attend Forensics Meet

Menasha — Three Appleton students and one faculty member of the University of Wisconsin Menasha extension center participated Friday in the 11th annual inter-collegiate forensic tournament at Racine.

The Menasha contingent, headed by Miss Lila Locksmith, student adviser, discussed the question "How Can We Improve Relations with Latin America?"

Students were Karen Crowe, 1018 Lawrence street, John Courtois, 318 E. Commercial street, and Dick Gosz, 512 E. Summer street, all of Appleton.

Campers Group To Hear Plans For State Parks

Neenah — Pending legislation affecting state parks, such as setting up an annual sticker fee, will be discussed at a meeting of the Fox Valley chapter of the National Campers and Hikers association at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Kimberly - Clark corporation main office conference room "A."

Speaking to the camping group will be Clyde Smith, area supervisor for the Wisconsin conservation department's state park program. Officers will be elected and plans made for camping activities for the coming season. Refreshments will be served.

Shares Up in Heavy Trade
Prices Near Record On Exchange in Early Afternoon
New York — The missile-rocket-electronic shares continued to make strides and oils resumed their recovery as the stock market came close to a record high early this afternoon.

Trading was heavy. The ticker tape was late for 37 minutes in the first hour and briefly on several later occasions.
Gains by leading stocks went from fractions to a point while the "space age" issues made wider advances.
Zenith jumped about 11 points. Thiokol added more than 4. Tung-Sol and Raytheon advanced more than 2.
Gains of around a point or more were made by Standard Oil (New Jersey), Texas Co., Royal Dutch and Standard of Indiana. Gulf Oil jumped about 4.
Gains of about 2 points were made by American Telephone and Eastman Kodak. Lukens Steel jumped another couple of points.
American Motors lost about a point. Ford eased. General Motors was firm. Chrysler about unchanged.
Republic Steel and U.S. Steel were off fractions while Bethlehem was no better than firm.
New York Central, Illinois Central and Baltimore & Ohio were among fractional gainers.
Goodyear rebounded more than 2. U.S. Rubber was about a point to the good. Goodrich was off a point.
Gains of more than a point were scored by Radio Corp. and Pfizer. Moderately higher were Merck, Sperry Rand and Philco.
U.S. government bonds drifted lower.

Westview Park Plat Sent Water Utility

The city will require platting of Glendale avenue, Marquette and Pershing streets west to the Soo Line Railroad tracks in the Westview Park plat, the planning commission has decided.
The tentative 150-lot layout was sent Monday by the commission to the water commission, the first such action under a new policy to seek elimination of deadend water mains in new plats.
The plat is at the north-west corner of the city and is owned principally by Christian Vanden Heuvel, Kenneth Hoogman and H. J. Slezak. The land is in the process of being annexed.
Director of Public Works Duszynski said extensions of three streets, which may never be opened, are needed to provide the city a place to put storm sewers. Whether the streets will be needed depends on development of the industrially-zoned land.

Congressman Cites Examples of Waste in Military Aids
Washington — A house subcommittee reports much waste in American military aid overseas. Without naming the nations involved, the subcommittee, headed by Rep. Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa.), cited these examples:
1. One country used U. S. facilities, earmarked for military purposes, to build private planes for its officers.
2. An installation had a 185-year supply of a single item of ammunition.
3. A foreign motor pool received enough U. S. tires one year to put 44 tires on each truck it operated.

Well Named
Columbus, Ohio — Among Ohio's veterinarians are doctors named Bear, Bird and Beavers.

Treasury Borrowing Helps Promote Inflation Trend

BY FRANK CORMIER

Washington — The U. S. Treasury is promoting inflation of the money supply just as surely as if it were printing paper greenbacks.

The treasury doesn't like this, of course, because it could lead to inflation of the whole economy. At the moment, however, it sees no clear way out.

Investor fears of rising interest rates and inflation have made it difficult — if not impossible — for Uncle Sam to borrow needed billions on a long term basis, or even for an intermediate period like five years. As a result, he has had to concentrate on getting short term loans which are much more inflationary.

Many of these loans, which come due in three months to three years, are kissing cousins of greenbacks and they create this paradox:

Uncle Sam has trouble getting less-inflationary long term loans, partly because of inflation fears. So he borrows on a short term basis and thus reinforces the very fears which are compounding his problem.

For Sec. of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson, this is a bitter irony. Anderson is so vocal a foe of inflation that asking the visitor's opinion on "monetization of the debt." He has found that a surprising number of government and business leaders are puzzled by the term. In such cases, he launched into a simple explanation:

Loan From Bank

Assume the treasury borrows a million dollars from a Washington bank. What is involved?

The treasury gives the bank a piece of paper — a government security — which says Uncle Sam has borrowed a million dollars and will repay in so many years at a fixed rate of interest. Because the worth of this piece of paper is vouched for by Uncle Sam, it assumes real value and is listed among the bank's assets.

On the liability side of the bank's ledger is written an off-setting entry. The bank sets up a new deposit of one million dollars against which the government can write checks to pay its bills.

Anderson asks where did the bank get this million dollars? Did it take the cash out of someone else's account and give it to the treasury?

Created Credit

The answer is that it got the money from no one. It created one million dollars worth of credit on the strength of the treasury's I.O.U.

At this point the visitor is apt to comment, "That's just like printing greenbacks, and I'm against that."

This is inflation of the money supply.

Monetization of debt doesn't have to be bad. Bank credit — another term for it — should expand in line with the growth of the economy. Otherwise there might not be enough money around to finance essential business operations and construction.

However, if bank credit outpaces economic growth, inflationary pressures build up.

Has this happened?

The active money supply is measured in terms of the total amount of cash plus deposits in checking accounts. At the end of 1958, the figure was just over $143 billion compared with about $138 billion a year earlier.

This was an increase of about 3 1/2 per cent and was approximately in line with economic growth, as measured by the gross national product.

On a longer range basis, developments in this sphere have been even less alarming from the standpoint of inflation potential. Since 1955, cash and checking deposits have increased 3 1/2 per cent while the national product has advanced more than 7 per cent.

The picture could change for the worse this year, however, if the treasury continues to do most of its borrowing on a short term basis. The "greenbacks" could get out of hand.

There's no mystery to finding a second income

If you want a second income, there really is no mystery to tracking it down. Bloodhounds are no help at all. But here are six simple clues that can be helpful... and may lead you to a handy second income from dividends on stocks or interest on bonds.

Clue #1 Drop in to see a Registered Representative or Partner in a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. You can find the Member Firm nearest you in your classified telephone directory. You'll certainly get a cordial welcome.

Clue #2 Once you're there, put your cards on the table. Tell the Registered Representative what you feel you can spend... what sort of investment plans you have in mind. He's qualified to help you. To become registered, you see, he had to pass a tough examination of his knowledge. His business background and personal integrity were also carefully examined. He will be glad to discuss an investment program in keeping with your circumstances. He may suggest common stocks or preferred stocks. Or perhaps bonds may seem best for you. He'll base his opinions on experience and the facts at his disposal. (Altogether, Member Firms spend millions on research.)

Clue #3 If you've been holding off until now because you thought the amount you have to invest is skimpy, the Registered Representative can give you a cheery thought or two. Many investors are buying stock under the Monthly Investment Plan for as little as $40 every three months up to $1000 a month... systematically.

Clue #4 When investing, it pays to be guided by these important cautions: Always get facts; never rely on tips or rumors. Invest only money left over after bills have been paid and emergencies provided for. Remember, stock and bond prices go down as well as up.

Clue #5 The services of your Member Firm don't stop with good advice. After you have examined the facts and consulted with the Registered Representative, let's suppose you decide to buy some securities on the New York Stock Exchange. You give your order, and it is transmitted right away to the Member Firm representative on the floor of the Exchange — the market place where orders to buy and sell come together from investors everywhere. He will buy for you there at the lowest price he can; and usually, in a matter of minutes, your order is executed.

It's important, from time to time, to ask your Registered Representative to review your holdings with you, to take advantage of new developments or investment opportunities that may arise.

Clue #6 Be sure to get the free booklet, "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS," published by Members of the Exchange. It's crammed with helpful information. For example: The records of some 365 stocks on the Exchange that have paid a cash dividend every year from 25 to over 100 years. Your Registered Representative will be glad to give it to you, or you can write for it. Finding that second income isn't very mysterious. What's more, you'll probably enjoy knowing a Registered Representative Hang-on to him. He's a good friend to have. Before you forget it, why not clip the coupon right now and send for that free booklet.
